We have just received copies of the January-February, 1964, issue of the Harvard Business Review which contains the Director's article entitled "The U.S. Businessman Faces the Soviet Spy." This is a very comprehensive, analytical 16-page article. The theme is how Soviet agents hoodwink American businessmen and it is a definitive case study of Soviet espionage together with suggestions for counter-measures for American businessmen to help the FBI and America.

This is the most extensive and high-level article published in the foremost magazine of American business and industry. The Harvard Business Review has a circulation of 100,000 among the top echelon executives of American industry. This article is a new concept in the format of the Harvard Business Review which beforehand steadfastly published only articles of business policies or procedures.

In the research work and preliminary preparation in connection with the article SA Fern C. Stukenbroeker and [redacted] of the Crime Research Section and SA Joseph E. Condon of the Domestic Intelligence Division contributed considerable time and talent. The preparation of the article began in the Summer of 1963 and Mr. Stukenbroeker is responsible for the personal direction as well as a good portion of the basic research. In addition, he had personal liaison with [redacted] [redacted] the Harvard Business Review, concerning the article format and contents of the final manuscript. Stukenbroeker likewise participated to a large degree in the styling of the script, together with editing and proofreading of the manuscript.

[redacted] was a constant assistant to Mr. Stukenbroeker in the complex and comprehensive research project involved, personally participated in the voluminous proofreading and documentation assignments and merits credit in connection with the excellence and accuracy of the article. REC-137 167-308181-204

SA Condon served in a competent liaison capacity between the Crime Records Division and the Domestic Intelligence Division, handled the review of the numerous and diverse technical points involved, and offered many valuable suggestions in regard to the structure and format of the article itself.

Re: HARVARD BUSINESS REVIEW
DIRECTOR'S ARTICLE

Due to the outstanding caliber of the article, the affluent status of the Harvard Business Review and the vital need for the message of this article, it is felt that this article will reap many benefits for the FBI among top businessmen and citizen groups throughout the country.

RECOMMENDATION:

That SA Fern C. Stukenbroeker and clerical employee [redacted] of the Crime Records Division and SA Joseph F. Condon of the Domestic Intelligence Division be commended for their splendid efforts in connection with captioned article.

Dear Dr. Stukenbroeker:

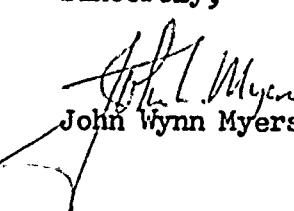

Last Sunday evening was a high moment for us at Washington Street Methodist Church as you spoke concerning communism as one of the negative religions of the world. I thought your address was beautifully presented and I many times reached for my pencil to take notes as you spoke.

It is good to have you in our community and closely associated with us as a fellow Methodist. I appreciate the kind words spoken concerning your visit to Farmville many years ago on our behalf.

We at Washington Street will be reaching for you again from time to time. You can help us with communism and other related subjects. As a Christian teacher, you can give us counsel and guidance.

Mrs. Myers joins me in wishing for you and your family the very best for the new year, 1964. With sincere appreciation, I am numerous summary memoranda for the use of the Director and Bureau officials, and many other creative writing projects.

Sincerely,

Under the organization of the Research Unit during the past several years there are two research clerks:

1. Editorial Clerk (Research) GS 010-6-59-D-32--who is assigned general research for all seven SA's, on assignment by the Unit Chief, and in addition handles some continuing projects of the Unit.

2. Editorial Clerk (Research) GS-010-6-57-D-4--who is primarily responsible for the compilation and maintainance of the prodigious research and reference files project which is fundamental to the operations of the entire Crime Research Section and in addition collects pertinent reference material for all SA's of the entire Crime Research Section.

The present need is for a new position in which the incumbent will be entirely occupied in special research and creative writing work in connection with assignments of the seven SA's plus the three GS-10 clerical writers of the Research Unit. The following pertinent developments in the past two years in this workload and responsibilities of the Research Unit justify the need for this new position:

1. The increased tempo of the FBI's public relations program has brought us considerable public response and has elicited increased requests for articles and material regarding the Bureau. This has increased the workload in connection with articles. An example of the types of articles now in preparation is one for the Harvard Business Review on the subject of Soviet espionage. This will be a 60-page article, approximately 15,000-18,000 words in length, and involves penetrative and exhausting research for current data. Experience has proved that for the most productive results in the most economical manner it is advantageous to afford our three GS-10 clerical writers some research clerk services in order that they can devote more time and effort to creative writing.

2. The increased need for advising the public regarding our security responsibilities and the mounting public attention on espionage has resulted in a great demand for Bureau speakers in this category. SA Fern C. Stukenbroeker, of the Research Unit, is one of the principal speakers in this field and his appearances have increased considerably. During 1962 he made 82 such speeches and in the first nine months of 1963 he has made 63 speeches. The majority of these are addresses before large and prominent groups. Illustrative of his speech assignments are: The 1963 annual lecture series at McMurry College, Abilene, Texas, (series of three lectures); National Management Association, Buffalo, New York; New York Association of Chiefs of Police; Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah; National Federation of Catholic College Students.

These out-of-town speeches are vitally important to the Bureau's best interest but by the very nature of their importance they do demand more time for extensive and comprehensive research than SA Stukenbroeker with his other assignments and time spent out-of-town can alone afford them.

3. One of the most successful human interest programs we now have is the furnishing of background news articles on new Bureau employees' to their hometown newspapers. This project was originated and is handled by an Agent Supervisor in the Research Unit. There is an unlimited source of favorable publicity for the Bureau throughout the United States and excellent recruitment material in these featurettes. The workload and responsibilities of the SA's in this Unit precludes taking full advantage of the possibilities of this program and one of the major duties of the new position will be the research and preparation of material for these write-ups, under the direction of the SA supervisor.

The duties of the new position will comprise creative writing and research assignments in connection with the three categories listed above and will neither take away from or conflict with the responsibilities of the positions Editorial Clerk (Research) GS 010-6-59-D-34 or Editorial Clerk (Research) GS 010-6-59-D-34 or Editorial Clerk (Research) GS 010-6-57-D-4.

RATING GUIDE AND CHECK-LIST

Note: Only those items having pertinent bearing on employee's performance should be rated. All employees in same salary grade should be compared.
 Rate items as follows:
 + Outstanding (exceeding excellent and deserving of special commendation).
 E Excellent.
 ✓ Satisfactory (good or very good).
 - Unsatisfactory.
 O No opportunity to appraise performance during rating period.

Guide for determining adjective rating:

1. "Outstanding" adjective rating requires (A) that all rated elements be "+" and (B) that each and every rated element be factually justified by narrative detail on reverse of Form FD-185.
2. "Excellent," "Satisfactory" or "Unsatisfactory" adjective ratings will depend upon the composite result of evaluating all rated elements rather than following any mechanical formulas; however, for an employee to be rated "Excellent" he must not be rated unsatisfactory on any performance evaluation factors on the rating guide and check-list and must be rated "Excellent" or "Outstanding" on the majority of such rating factors. Good judgment must be exercised to insure that adjective rating is reasonable in the light of elements rated.

A. Any element rated "Unsatisfactory" must be supported by narrative comments.
 B. An "official" adjective rating of "Unsatisfactory" must comply with the requirements described on the reverse of form FD-185.

E (1) Personal appearance.
E (2) Personality and effectiveness of his personal contacts.
E (3) Attitude (including dependability, cooperativeness, loyalty, enthusiasm, amenability and willingness to equitably share work load).
E (4) Physical fitness (including health, energy, stamina).
E (5) Resourcefulness and ingenuity.
E (6) Forcefulness and aggressiveness as required.
E (7) Judgment, including common sense, ability to arrive at proper conclusions, ability to define objectives.
E (8) Initiative and the taking of appropriate action on own responsibility.
E (9) Planning ability and its application to the work.
E (10) Accuracy and attention to pertinent detail.
E (11) Industry, including energetic, consistent application to duties.
E (12) Productivity, including amount of acceptable work produced and rate of progress on or completion of assignments. Also consider adherence to deadlines unless failure to meet is attributable to causes beyond employee's control.
E (13) Knowledge of duties, instructions, rules and regulations, including readiness of comprehension and "know how" of application.
O (14) Technical or mechanical skills.
O (15) Investigative ability and results:

PART I - GENERAL COMMENTS

This report is submitted as the annual efficiency report on the above mentioned Special Agent who, during the past year, continued to do an above average job in research matters and in representing the Bureau throughout the country before groups of all types on the subject of communism. Typical of his work in the former regard was the research on a major article entitled "The U. S. Businessman Faces the Soviet Spy" which appeared in the January-February issue of the Harvard Business Review. This article has received an outstanding response indeed, having been reprinted by literally dozens of publications. The magazine itself has been highly pleased with the response and has received a steady stream of letters from prominent businessmen expressing commendation on the article. Already tens of thousands of copies of the article have been distributed and these are, of course, on top of the 100,000 circulation of the magazine itself. This is the outstanding article of this type ever prepared in the FBI, and already some very concrete results have been received.

During the rating period, SA Stukenbroeker addressed many thousands of students as well as a number of other related types of groups on the subject of communism. His personnel file is replete with most commendatory letters pertaining to the speeches. The response has been uniformly favorable and not one word of criticism in this regard appears in Mr. Stukenbroeker's file. Typical of the speeches handled by this Special Agent during the year was a series of 3 lectures (Willson Lectures) delivered at McMurry College in Texas during the fall of 1963. These lectures were very learned and covered the subject of communism in depth and it appears likely that the school will publish them in the near future.

AS

SA Fern C. Stukenbroeker
Part I - General Comments (cont'd.)

SA Stukenbroeker's fine work was recognized on many occasions during the rating period. Under date of May 15th he was commended on his expert handling of 2 speeches and a television appearance in Utah earlier in the month.

He was commended on July 31st for his splendid presentation before the 63rd Annual Convention of the New York State Association of Chiefs of Police.

In connection with the McMurry lectures mentioned above, SA Stukenbroeker was commended on October 24th.

A letter of January 10, 1964, commended this Special Agent on his splendid research relative to the article entitled "The U. S. Businessman Faces the Soviet Spy" which has been previously mentioned.

Based on his over-all performance during the rating period, this Special Agent is entitled to a rating of "Excellent" in Grade GS-15.

FBI Agent to Discuss Red Minority Appeal

An FBI agent will discuss "Communism's Appeal to Minorities in a Democratic Society" at 11:45 a.m. Monday in the IMA Annex.

Dr. Fern C. Stukembroeker, an FBI agent since 1942, will speak at one of the Mott Program's world affairs luncheon meetings called "Impact: The Bear and the Dragon."

Before joining the FBI, Stukembroeker received his bachelor's, master's and doctor's degrees from Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.

He has served with the FBI as an agent in Baltimore, Washington, D. C., and Cleveland. His work primarily has been in the area of internal security, involving investigation of Communist party and Soviet espionage activities in the United States. He has served both as a field agent and as a supervisor.

Stukembroeker is making a speaking tour of the United States, under the auspices of the FBI.

FBI Agent Discusses Ways to Halt Communism.Positive Approach on Reds Urged

Ways in which he said Americans can prevent the spread of communism were listed here Monday by Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker, an FBI agent since 1942.

Americans must "stand for something" instead of using a negative approach to communism, he said.

Stukenbroeker spoke at a luncheon in the Mott Program's world affairs series called "Impact: The Bear and the Dragon," in the IMA Annex.

Communism provides a challenge to Americans to improve society through democratic processes and show that democracy works, he said, pointing out that the Communists claim to have simple solutions to complicated U.S. and world problems.

Stukenbroeker warned Americans:

- ① Not to make false charges that someone is a Communist.
- ② Not to jump to the conclusion, because of a difference in viewpoint, that a person is a Communist.
- ③ Not to overestimate or underestimate the Communist appeal in the United States.
- ④ Not to act hysterically, engage in lawless, vigilante activities or speak in ambiguous terms.

Although communism has dropped in popularity in the United States since the 1930s, it is still around and "wrapped in democratic phraseology," he said.

The Communist party in the United States is trying to be identified as a "champion of the minority" in civil rights issues, he went on. It also seeks to break down the hostility of the people and gain acceptance as a political party so that it can have a voice in offering solutions to American problems, he said. Just now it is checking the legal aspects of running candidates in the 1964 elections, he added.

Stukenbroeker urged that youth be encouraged to think for itself and that the Americans in general acquire the knowledge to defeat Communist arguments.

The FBI is checking on 160 Communist front organizations, he reported.

He said most Communist espionage work in the United States is done by members of the Soviet Embassy and United Nations delegations from Russia and satellite countries.

He estimated that there are 10,000 "hard-core" members of the Communist party in the United States.

The majority of the Americans who follow communism are attracted by its ideology and are looking for short-cut solutions, but the work toward the Communist goal is carried on by any means, he said.

We appreciate so much your willingness to come on a holiday and speak to our students and faculty. They were tremendously impressed and illuminated by your presentation. I heard many words of deep appreciation for your willingness to come out so early in the morning and give this presentation.

We know that it was illuminating to the students. We trust that some of them will make a real effort to get into the Department of Justice and possibly into the FBI.

On behalf of our organization, I want to thank you for everything you did to make the Seminar such a success. Next time we hope we can arrange for a tour of the FBI. We tried it for Friday, but of course, it was closed.

Most sincerely yours,

Clyde W. Taylor

Dear Sir:

For inclusion in the fund to be paid to the designated beneficiary of any Special Agent of the FBI who has previously contributed to this fund and who dies from any cause except self-destruction while employed as a Special Agent, I am forwarding herewith (by Check - Money Order) the sum of $10, payable to S.A.I.F., to be included in said fund. Payment will be made for death by self-destruction after the Agent has been a member of the fund for a continuous period of two years. It is understood and agreed that the sum tendered herewith is a voluntary, gratuitous contribution to said fund which I understand is to be administered in the following manner.

The Director of the FBI will appoint a committee which shall consider all matters pertaining to the acquisition, safe keeping and expending of said fund, which committee will recommend appropriate action to the Director in pertinent matters. The Assistant Director of the Administrative Division of the FBI shall receive all contributions and account for same to the Director. Upon the death of any Special Agent who is a member of said fund the appointed committee will consider the case and submit a recommendation to the Director as to its conclusions. Appropriate instructions will then be issued to the Assistant Director of the Administrative Division, directing him to pay to the designated beneficiary the sum of $10,000. The liability of the fund shall not under any circumstances exceed the amount of monies in the fund at the time any liability shall occur.

Dear Dr. Stukenbroeker:

On behalf of the entire student body and faculty members of the Haines City High School I should like to express our sincere appreciation once again for your visit, and the assembly program which you gave our school. This was an experience that we shall never forget and one that we know we were most fortunate to have happen to us.

Your talk in assembly, which was enjoyed by some 700 students and parents, was most informative and one that we shall long remember. Also your visits to the several Social Studies classes was certainly a tremendous help in getting the students to better understand communism.

We hope you had a pleasant trip home. May we extend to you and your family a cordial invitation to return to our town for a visit at any time. Enclosed are several clippings about your visit in our school which we thought you might be interested in seeing.

Our blessings are with you as you continue the wonderful work that you are doing for the betterment of our country.

Dear Mr. Hoover.

The annual Full Gospel Business mens Fellowship convention this year will be held at the Statler Hilton Hotel at 16th & K Sts. N.W.

On Thursday morning Feb 20th at 8 A.M., we will have our Congressional Breakfast in the Presidential Ballroom. Many Congressmen, and Senators, meet with us and have breakfast, and fellowship, in a wonderful Christian atmosphere.

I am once again taking this opportunity in inviting you and whom ever you ~~want~~^{wish} to bring along as our guests at this ~~annual~~^{annual} breakfast. In your behalf last year was Tom Stepenkoker whom we enjoyed ~~very~~^{so} much. Is it possible for you to be ~~with us~~^{with us} this year. It is a wonderful gathering of men and women of all denominations and one certainly does see an ecumenical movement in action!

Please try to attend. If you possibly can, we get started at 8 A.M., and you could probably leave early, as do many of the ~~engrossmen~~^{men}. If you can attend, I will meet you at the entrance of the Presidential Ballroom, and introduce you to all ~~the~~^{10 JAN 20 1964} ~~CONFIDENCE~~^{CONFIDENCE} Presidents. Attached is a letter dated April 8th from the SAC, Oklahoma City which illustrates the exceptionally fine response being received to the speeches on communism being handled by SA Stukenbroeker of this Section. I understand that the room where this particular speech before the Oklahoma Dental Association was held was filled to overflowing with the dentists and their wives and that considerably over a hundred could not get into the room. As indicated by the SAC, Stukenbroeker did an outstanding job.

Last week I spent two days in Lubbock, Texas. While there, I gave a total of seven speeches, before some 6,000 people--five appearances before the Lubbock High Schools and two at affairs sponsored by Lubbock Christian College.

While in town, I personally called on Mr. Charles Guy, Editor and Publisher of the "Lubbock Avalanche-Journal." This is the one and only paper in town. He is very friendly to the Bureau and expressed his admiration concerning the Director. He also said to give you his best wishes. He is a very likeable, friendly fellow and I spent about 45 minutes with him.

Also while in Lubbock, I talked to the mayor of the town and also to the United States Commissioner. At one speech I ran across a couple of Legion boys from New Mexico who asked that they be remembered to you.

I thought you would be interested in the above.

I wanted to call to your attention the outstanding performance of SA Stukenbroeker over a period of four days late last month in Oklahoma City. He delivered four lectures before the students and faculty of Oklahoma City University. In addition, he made two presentations before a group of 500 Methodist ministers. One of these involved a question and answer period which lasted approximately two and a half hours. A fifth presentation was before a community-wide forum involving some seven to eight hundred individuals. On top of these lectures, were two TV appearances over Station KOCO-TV.

There is attached a copy of the program of the Willson Lectures before the students and faculty of the University. Already a number of very favorable letters have been received and some of these are attached. The SAC at Oklahoma City has written in (letter attached) and has commented in glowing terms about the performance of SA Stukenbroeker. Mr. Stukenbroeker advises me that even though a small number of members of the John Birch Society were present at one of the meetings, everything went smoothly and there were no embarrassing situations at all.

The Willson Lectures were established at Oklahoma City University in 1952 when Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson of Floydada, Texas, gave the University an endowment of $15,000. Annually the interest from this fund is used to bring an outstanding speaker to the campus to discuss the place of religion in this modern world of science and technology.

The Willsons are outstanding members of the Methodist Church and have endowed similar lectures at other institutions of higher learning in the Southwest. Their own stated purpose in giving the endowment lectures is:

"We wanted to contact the most important group that would shape the thinking of the leadership of its time. We chose the youth of the colleges and universities, both denominational and non-denominational."

Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker

Introducing the 1964 Willson Lecturer

Dr. Stukenbroeker was born at Nevada, Missouri. He received his elementary education in Missouri and Kansas public schools. A graduate of Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri, Dr. Stukenbroeker received his Bachelor of Science (Journalism 1938), Master of Arts (1939) and Ph.D. (1942) degrees from that institution, majoring in European history.

Dr. Stukenbroeker entered the FBI as a Special Agent on November 16, 1942, and has served in the Baltimore, Washington, D. C., and Cleveland Divisions. In 1948, after seven years of investigative work in the field he was assigned to the headquarters staff of the FBI. His work with the FBI has been primarily in the field of internal security, involving investigation of the Communist Party, USA, and Soviet espionage. Both as an Agent assigned to field cases and in a supervisory capacity on Mr. Hoover's staff, he has closely studied the ramifications of the communist conspiracy in this country. In his over 20 years with the FBI, he has become an expert on communism, both communist theory and communist practice as revealed through the FBI's cases.

Mr. Hoover has designated Dr. Stukenbroeker to appear throughout the United States as an FBI speaker on communism. He has spoken before a large number of law enforcement, civic, religious, educational, fraternal and other organizations on the strategy and tactics of communism.

Dr. Stukenbroeker is married and has three children.

Dr. Stukenbroeker will give the Willson Lectures each morning. He will lecture to the Ministers Monday at 4:00 P.M. on "COMMUNISM: the World's Pagan Religion." He will conduct an open Forum on Tuesday at 2:00 P.M. This will be a question and answer period. On Wednesday at 7:30 P.M. Dr. Stukenbroeker will speak to a Community-Wide Convocation on: "COMMUNISM AND THE CHURCH."

Dear Mr. Hoover:

We have just had the closing session of our Oklahoma Ministers' Week, the pastors' school of the Oklahoma Conference of The Methodist Church. I am writing to express our appreciation for the fine contribution made by Dr. F. C. Stukenbroeker.

We found him to be a man of rich experience, fine preparation, and deep understanding. In addition, his personable manner and objective approach gave added effectiveness to his presentation.

We are grateful to you for lending him to us for this important occasion in the educational efforts of Oklahoma Methodism.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Once again I write to thank you for your continuing outstanding cooperation with members of the International Council of Industrial Editors.

On behalf of the International Council and the North Carolina Industrial Editors Association, I extend sincere thanks to you for granting the North Carolina Association the privilege of having Dr. Fern Stukenbroeker as guest speaker at their September 15 meeting.

As I knew would be true, the North Carolina group has responded with complete enthusiasm to Dr. Stukenbroeker's inspiring presentation on the workings and dangers of communism. Mr. Forrest A. Wilkins, president of the North Carolina group has given me a glowing report on the success of Dr. Stukenbroeker's visit. He also has asked me to extend his personal thanks to you for the privilege of having Dr. Stukenbroeker with them. I assure you, too, sir, it was a real service to these editors to be able to share in some of Dr. Stukenbroeker's tremendous knowledge on how they, as industrial editors, can help in the never-ending fight against communism.

It was most gratifying to me, as I'm sure it was to you, to hear of the wonderful newspaper, radio and TV coverage the North Carolina group was able to provide for Dr. Stukenbroeker's visit. I am, quite frankly, very proud of them for their outstanding success in this effort.

You are most fortunate, indeed, to have such a dedicated man, with such outstanding ability, as Dr. Stukenbroeker in the service of our government's most respected agency. We of the International Council of Industrial Editors are most fortunate in having a friend like you to let us, too, benefit from his dedication and ability.

Again, sir, my sincere thanks for your cooperation in our efforts. Please know that the International Council always stands ready to serve you and your fine organization in any way we can.

Respectfully yours,

Dear Dr. Stukenbroeker:

I was much impressed with your presentation at the convention of the Nebraska-Iowa Kiwanis Clubs in Storm Lake. Your presentation was most excellent and timely.

I am concerned about the amount of technical information that is going to Russia via scientific societies. You mentioned this at Storm Lake and indicated that it was all through legal channels. I am editorial director of the Journal of Soil and Water Conservation and you will be interested to know that since 1955 when the Russian agricultural delegation came to the United States for the first time, we have secured 18 subscriptions to our publication that go to various libraries in Russia. This apparently came about as they saw our publication when here. I understand that other societies are sending similar information.

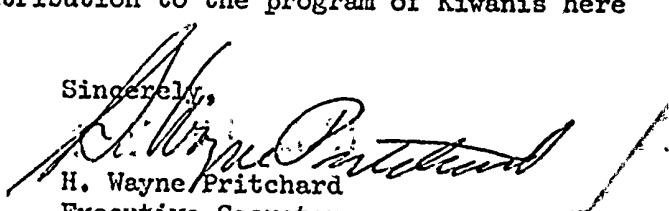

We would probably be willing to curtail our mailings but I see little use in doing so as our publication goes to more than 70 other countries of the world. I would be interested in your comments on this. I feel that our material is far less critical from a security standpoint than much other material but naturally I have been concerned about it.

We do not have any publications going to Red China, however, we have received some letters from Peiping which would indicate to me that some of the copies that are mailed to Hong Kong are again remailed - or the Chinese are picking up our material in libraries in other countries.

I know this is of little value to you but I had not heard anyone express themselves on the point until I heard you and I have frequently wondered about it.

Again we appreciate your contribution to the program of Kiwanis here in Iowa.

Sincerely,

H. Wayne Pritchard

Dear Dr. Hoover:

Thanks for sending Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker to our Nebraska-Iowa Kiwanis District convention.

He did everything right. He indeed did get us up off the shiny part of our trousers and onto our toes with an inspiring address. He served as a resource leader for an important panel discussion and he paid us the compliment of staying for our All Kiwanis Ladies Night Banquet in the evening so that we could present him to a record-breaking crowd with the head table personnel.

Our convention set a new high in attendance, drawing 964 people, a gain of more than 15% over the previous record of 836 set at Sioux City in 1958. We had publicized Dr. Stukenbroeker's appearance widely throughout our two-state area and I am sure that his pulling power had much to do with the record-breaking numbers at our convention.

Our people appreciated not only his very obvious ability, but also the warmth of his personality. You did the Nebraska-Iowa District an outstanding service in selecting Dr. Stukenbroeker for us and we want you to know that we are deeply grateful.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On Tuesday morning, June 30, we were privileged to hear F. C. Stukenbroeker, Supervisor, Federal Bureau of Investigation, who addressed a general session at our 28th annual National Conference. This was held at the University of Maine, Orono, Maine.

I want to tell you as sincerely as I can that Dr. Stukenbroeker gave our delegates one of the finest addresses we have ever been privileged to hear. The content of the address was excellent and was presented beautifully. He knows how to talk to youngsters and, more important, has something important to say.

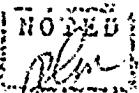

We are most grateful to you for making Dr. Stukenbroeker available to us and know that the message he brought to us that morning will be discussed in hundreds of student councils around the country during the coming school year. Our sincere and heartfelt thanks to you and to the Department for having such a man on your staff and for making him available to speak to youth groups throughout the country.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Thank you for everything that you have done during your tenure as Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. My contacts with members of the FBI, though infrequent, continually add to my respect for the fine job you are doing.

The main reason for this letter is to express appreciation for the splendid address by Mr. Ferne Stukenbrocker, who spoke to more than 200 Baptist deacons and ministers assembled at Shocco Springs this past week-end. He placed in sharp focus and perspective for all who heard him, the dangers that communism poses for us here in America, and in the world. More important, he impressed us with the necessity that we do something about it. For this I will be eternally grateful.

All of us left the assembly with a firm resolve to live more dedicated Christian lives. I feel we will be all the more effective as we promote Christ and his teachings, and our zeal for doing so has been re-kindled by the inspiring messages, testimonies, and challenges to us during the retreat.

We thank God for you and your influence. We pray that his power will sustain you and all the members of your organization. We join you and them in seeking His guidance, as we enunciate and proclaim our principles of liberty and justice for all.

Dear Sir:

For inclusion in the fund to be paid to the designated beneficiary of any Special Agent of the FBI who has previously contributed to this fund and who dies from any cause except self-destruction while employed as a Special Agent, I am forwarding herewith (by Check - Money Order) the sum of $10, payable to S.A.I.F., to be included in said fund. Payment will be made for death by self-destruction after the Agent has been a member of the fund for a continuous period of two years. It is understood and agreed that the sum tendered herewith is a voluntary, gratuitous contribution to said fund which I understand is to be administered in the following manner.

The Director of the FBI will appoint a committee which shall consider all matters pertaining to the acquisition, safe keeping and expending of said fund, which committee will recommend appropriate action to the Director in pertinent matters. The Assistant Director of the Administrative Division of the FBI shall receive all contributions and account for same to the Director. Upon the death of any Special Agent who is a member of said fund the appointed committee will consider the case and submit a recommendation to the Director as to its conclusions. Appropriate instructions will then be issued to the Assistant Director of the Administrative Division, directing him to pay to the designated beneficiary the sum of $10,000. The liability of the fund shall not under any circumstances exceed the amount of monies in the fund at the time any liability shall occur.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Hoover:

As of this date, Friday, November 20, 1964, Paul Coble Post No. 26 of the American Legion, Department of Indiana, made up of some 250 physicians and dentists in this area, has completed its sixth annual Anti-Communism Seminars Program for the high schools of our community. As you know, Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker of your staff, has appeared here for the third time.

In 1962, Dr. Stukenbroeker appeared as one of two speakers and on that occasion spoke at three assembly programs on Wednesday, December 5. At that time, we learned to respect and admire Dr. Stukenbroeker very much and were delighted that you permitted him to return for our annual program on November 19, 20 and 21 of 1963. In the 1962 program, Dr. Stukenbroeker shared the high task of speaking to the students with Mr. McNamara, the Executive Director of the staff of the House Un-American Activities Committee. In 1963, he was the only speaker for all three days and he spoke to approximately 15,000 students in high schools in the City of Indianapolis and their faculty. This tour included the following high schools: Broad Ripple, Shortridge, Wood, Washington, Howe, Manual, Arlington, Arsenal Technical, and Attacks high schools.

Dr. Stukenbroeker's 1963 appearance evoked so much favorable consideration that you remember we asked that you permit him to return here for the 1964 appearance.

We were most happy to have Dr. Stukenbroeker arrive in Indianapolis, November 16 and after preliminary planning, he set out on a very difficult four day tour speaking to nine of the large county high schools in Marion County plus three of the larger parochial high schools of this Archdiocese. Again, Dr. Stukenbroeker has appeared before approximately 15,000 students and members of the faculty.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover

We were most pleased to receive from you the personal letter addressed to the Students of Marion County High Schools and we used this by direct reproduction on the program, a copy of which is attached. This was very well received and had the close attention of those attending.

We have found that Dr. Stukenbroeker's appearance here this year has been an even more successful event than the good results we obtained in 1962 and 1963. He was asked to teach a government class for thirty minutes in one high school and at each of the high schools, many of the boys and girls came up afterwards, asked questions and gave comment to the extent that keeping the party on schedule presented some difficulties.

On the night of November 18, Dr. Stukenbroeker appeared at a dinner, given by the Post, for members and their wives to which all of the school principals and their wives or companions were invited. In addition, certain selected people who are particularly interested in Americanism and Communism education in this community, were also special guests. At this time, Dr. Stukenbroeker gave a masterful address and spent over two hours trying to answer the questions of his audience.

I am giving you this somewhat long resume so that you may have for yourself an idea of the success this program has enjoyed, entirely thanks to Dr. Stukenbroeker and to your cooperation. The name of the F.B.I. has opened doors without question to anything this man wanted to say and he did a masterful job of presenting factual data and reasonable argument, so that the students in this community may know the true meaning of communism and through this knowledge, be intelligently prepared to combat it.

We feel that we have met an objective in these six years this program has been presented and it has been most successful. We feel that we should reach the young people and that we have done by the thousands.

We sincerely hope and pray that we will be privileged to conduct this program again in November or December of 1965 and I should warn you now, that we will be appealing to your office for help of a similar nature.

You also made available to us twelve copies of your latest book, which you autographed, and these books have been placed in the library of each of the schools Dr. Stukenbroeker visited. There is an interesting sidelight to note, that before these books could be placed in the library, the students were clamoring to check them out and read them in several schools.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover

I believe you will agree with us that this has been a worthwhile effort and our members deeply appreciate your cooperation in all of the past events and we will look forward to receiving your cooperation in the future.

I hope this is a rather complete report and I am writing to Dr. Stukenbroeker and Mr. DeLoach to thank them for their personal part in the arrangements.

Respectfully,

TO THE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS OF MARION COUNTY, INDIANA

It is indeed a pleasure for the FBI to be a guest in your high school.

We live in a world haunted by a dangerous evil, international communism. This enemy seeks to establish a dictatorship and destroy the liberties we enjoy as Americans.

Whether this country will continue as a free Nation depends, to a large extent, on you. Be willing to do your share. This will mean hard work, personal sacrifice and devotion to high ideals.

Be a good student. Cherish what is best. Be enthusiastic for America.

May I join with the dedicated men of Paul Coble Post

AMERICANISM PROGRAM

November 17, 18, 19, 20, 1964

This program is sponsored each year by Paul Coble Post No. 26 of THE AMERICAN LEGION. This Post is composed of approximately 300 Physicians and Dentists in the Marion County Area: Floyd Hale, D.D.S., Commander, and A. L. Marshall, Jr., M.D., Chairman of the Americanism Committee.

INTERNATIONAL COMMUNISM has always been a threat to the American way of life. A prime weapon in combating this threat is a thorough understanding of the conspiracy. Communism always thrives where its dangers are not fully explored and understood. We feel that if every young person in the community knows more about the evils of Communism, he will be better equipped to prevent its spread into our free American Society. It is upon this premise that Paul Coble Post brings to you an authority on this ever present threat to our American heritage. This year's speaker is Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker, an expert on Communism with the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

ABOUT OUR SPEAKER -- Dr. Stukenbroeker was born in 1918 in Missouri, is married and has three children. His education through high school was received in Missouri and Kansas public schools. He received his B.S. in 1938, M.A. in 1939 and Ph.D. in 1942 from Washington University at St. Louis, majoring in European History. He entered the F.B.I. in 1942 and served in Baltimore, Cleveland and Washington, D.C. Since 1948, he has been assigned to the Headquarters Staff of the F.B.I. in the field of Internal Security, involving investigation of the Communist Party (USA) and Soviet espionage. His work has made him very well acquainted with the ramifications of the communist conspiracy in this country. Because of his wide experience in this field, Dr. Stukenbroeker has been designated by Mr. J. Edgar Hoover to appear throughout the United States, speaking as an authority on Communism for the F.B.I.

SUBJECT: SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS BY
SA FERN C. STUKENBROEKER
BOWLING GREEN, KENTUCKY
JANUARY 12, 13, 14, 1965

The above mentioned Special Agent of this Section, on the invitation of the college president, delivered the Rodes-Helm Lecture$ at Western Kentucky State College, Bowling Green, Kentucky, on January 12th. This is an outstanding lecture series in southern Kentucky and attached is a folder concerning the lectures for this year. In addition to Stukenbroeker, Dr. Forrest C. Pogue of the George C. Marshall Research Library in Lexington, Virginia, will speak as will Mr. Edward Weeks of "The Atlantic Monthly."

Stukenbroeker's presentation at this lecture has received a most favorable response. The Dean of Business Affairs at the college wrote Stukenbroeker as follows: "We are continuing to receive favorable reports and complimentary responses to your visit to Bowling Green and to Western Kentucky State College. The Rodes-Helm lecture and your address at Chapel Assembly were particularly outstanding and I am confident that they will result in improved citizenship and renewed commitments throughout the College community for a long time to come."

The Chairman of the Rodes-Helm Lecture series described the lecture as "informative, interesting, enjoyable, and well received" and "one of the high lights in the cultural life of the College."

In addition to the formal lecture on the evening of the 12th, Stukenbroeker appeared before approximately 5,000 students the following morning in the gymnasium. He also addressed an American History class and a class in Far-Eastern-European History on the same morning. On the following morning, January 14th, he appeared before a sociology class at the college and was interviewed over local television in a student program.

In addition to appearances at the college, Stukenbroeker spoke before Bowling Green High School, the local Rotary Club, the joint Methodist Church meeting, the local Kiwanis Club and also had an interview over one of the local radio stations.

It will be seen that during his stay in Bowling Green, Stukenbroeker had 11 different appearances and was most favorably received indeed.

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of the fine performance of SA Stukenbroeker in this series of speeches and the exceptional response which has been received, it is recommended that this matter be routed to the Administrative Division so that an appropriate note can be sent.

Mr. Edward Weeks, the distinguished editor of the century-old literary magazine The Atlantic Monthly, is the third Rodes-Helm lecturer of the 1964-65 academic year. Mr. Weeks is the ninth editor of the famous periodical which have included such distinguished men as James Russell Lowell, James Thomas Fields, William Dean Howells and many others.

Mr. Weeks began his career with The Atlantic in 1924, and over the years his affection and resourcefulness in dealing with authors has won him a growing reputation. He became editor-in-chief in 1938 and the circulation of the magazine has grown from 100,000 to the more than 270,000 readers who purchase it today.

Mr. Weeks is the author of "The Open Heart", and has edited several anthologies, including "Great Short Novels" and "Jubilee". In the autumn of 1959 his autobiography, the story of an editor in action, was published under the title of "In Friendly Candor".

An avid fly fisherman, a better-than-average poker player and a worse-than-average golfer, Mr. Weeks does most of his reading in the evenings. He now receives more than 50,000 manuscripts a year, many of them of book length.

One of four American writers who were sent by the U. S. State Department on a Cultural Exchange with Russia, he travelled 11,000 miles within the Soviet Union, and during his stay there had close and unusual encounters with the novelists, the poets and editors of the U.S.S.R.

THE RODES-HELM LECTURE SERIES

The Rodes-Helm Lecture Series has been endowed by Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Helm, of Montclair, New Jersey. Mr. Helm is chairman of the Board of Directors of the Chemical Bank New York Trust Company, New York City, and is a director in numerous prominent concerns. He is a member of the American Institute of Banking, the Academy of Political Science, the New York Clearing House Association, and the American Bankers Association. Both he and Mrs. Helm are natives of Bowling Green and were educated in part in Ogden College and Western respectively. Later Mr. Helm attended Princeton University, of which he is a life trustee and Mrs. Helm attended the University of Wisconsin.

The lecture series is named in honor of Judge John B. Rodes, former Circuit Judge of Warren County, and Miss Margie Helm, Director of Library Services at Western Kentucky State College. Judge Rodes is the father of Mrs. Harold Helm. Miss Helm is the sister of Mr. Harold Helm.

The endowment fund is to be kept intact. The income from it is to be devoted to bringing lecturers to the Western campus.

Rodes-Helm lecturers of the past have been General Carlos P. Romulo, Dr. Albert Burke and John Mason Brown.

Dr. Stukenbroeker entered the FBI as a special agent on Nov. 16, 1942, and has served in the Baltimore, Washington, D. C., and Cleveland divisions. In 1948, after almost seven years of investigative work in the field, he was assigned to the headquarters staff of the FBI.

His work with the FBI has been primarily in the field of internal security, involving investigation of the Communist Party, USA, and Soviet espionage. Both as an agent assigned to field cases and in a supervisory capacity on FBI director J. Edgar Hoover's staff, he had closely studied the ramifications of the communist conspiracy in this country.

In his over 20 years with the FBI, he has become an expert on communism, both communist theory and communist practice as revealed through the FBI's cases. Hoover has designated Dr. Stukenbroeker to appear throughout the United States as an FBI speaker on communism. He has spoken before a large number of law enforcement, civic, religious, educational, fraternal and other organizations on the strategy and tactics of communism.

Born in Nevada, Mo., he received his elementary and high school education in Missouri and Kansas public schools. A graduate of Washington University in St. Louis, Dr. Stukenbroeker received his bachelor of science (Journalism) (1938) master of arts (1939) and Ph.D. (1942) degrees from that institution, majoring in European history.

Dr. Stukenbroeker is married and has three children.

Dr. Pogue, the director of the George C. Marshall Research Library in Lexington, Virginia, is a Kentucky native. After receiving the bachelor of arts degree at Murray State College in 1931, the master of arts degree at the University of Kentucky in 1932, he received the doctor of philosophy degree at Clark University, Worcester, Massachusetts, in 1939.

Dr. Pogue has taught at two Kentucky Colleges, Western in 1933 and Murray from 1933-42 and 1954-56. He served in the United States Army from 1943 to 1946. From 1946 to 1952 he was Department of the Army historian. Dr. Pogue served as Operations Research Analyst with Operations Research Office, John Hopkins University, under contract with the United States Army with assignment to Headquarters, United States Army, Europe, Heidelberg, 1952-54.

From 1956 to the present he has been director of the George C. Marshall Research Library and executive director of the George C. Marshall Research Foundation.

He has written several books including The Supreme Command, official account of Eisenhower's operations in Northwest Europe, the United States Army in World War II, published by the Department of the Army, and Education of a General, the first book of a three-volume biography of General Marshall.

Dr. Pogue's wife, the former Christine Brown, is also a Kentucky native.

Dear Mr. Stukenbroeker:

This is a note of thanks for your address to our criminology class while you were visiting here at Albion and speaking in Chapel.

Your talk expanded our knowledge of the FBI very greatly. We were happy to have a number of the current misconceptions cleared up concerning your organization. We also appreciated knowing about the work of your organization in the many fields that you cover. We could only have desired that you answer questions for several hours more. It really was so interesting.

I would guess that few criminology classes have the privilege of a visit from the most renowned law enforcement agency in the world. Yet it would seem to me that this should be part of such a course. At least I am going to try to secure your local agent when this course rolls around again.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I am [redacted] at Western Kentucky State College. Speaking on behalf of that Committee and for the College in general, I would like to express our appreciation to you for affording us the privilege of having on our campus Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker.

Dr. Stukenbroeker arrived on our campus on January 12 and remained with us until January 14. He participated in a very extensive program of lectures and activities. He appeared in one formal lecture on Tuesday evening, made a Chapel appearance on Wednesday at both the College and the local High School, spoke to two civic clubs, to a combined meeting of the Bowling Green churches on Wednesday evening, appeared on a television program, and lectured in some of our history and sociology classes.

EX-
JAN 18 1965

His lectures were informative, interesting, appropriate, enjoyable, and well received. I feel that he did all that we would have liked for a lecturer to do in this type of program, that he represented your Bureau well, and that we have profited much by his being on our campus. I feel that he has presented the issue of Communism to us in a way that we can better understand it and take steps to meet the challenge. Even though Dr. Stukenbroeker's appearances were varied, his lectures were appropriate and well received, from our freshmen Chapel program to the combined meeting of the Bowling Green churches. It was a wonderful experience having him on our campus, and we are grateful to you for having permitted him to come our way.

In addition to my own personal expression of thanks, I would like to add the thanks of my Committee.

Rodes-Helm Series

Dr. Stukenbroeker Sets Lectures Here

The 1965 Rodes-Helm lecture series has been expanded to include three programs rather than one guest speaker, as it has been done formerly.

The first of these programs will be Jan. 12 at 8 p.m. in Van Meter Auditorium. The guest lecturer will be Fern C. Stukenbroeker, expert on Communism with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. His topic will be "Communism in the United States."

Dr. Stukenbroeker will also speak at the freshman assembly the following morning on "What the Communists Fear Most."

Born in Nevada, Mo., he received his elementary and high school education in Missouri and Kansas public schools. A graduate of Washington University in St. Louis, Dr. Stukenbroeker received his bachelor of science (Journalism) (1933) master of arts (1939) and Ph.D. (1942) degrees from that institution, majoring in European history.

PERFORMANCE RATING GUIDE FOR INVESTIGATIVE PERSONNEL

(For use as attachment to Performance Rating Form No. FD-185)

Name of Employee VERN C. STUKENBROEKER Title SPECIAL AGENT

Rating Period: from 4-1-64 to 3-31-65

RATING GUIDE AND CHECK-LIST

Note: Only those items having pertinent bearing on employee's performance should be rated. All employees in same salary grade should be compared.

RATE ITEMS AS FOLLOWS:

- Outstanding (exceeding excellent and deserving of special commendation).
- Excellent.
- Satisfactory (good or very good).
- Unsatisfactory.

No opportunity to appraise performance during rating period:

Guide for determining adjective rating:

1. "Outstanding" adjective rating requires (A) that all elements be and (B) that each and every rated element be factually justified by narrative details, including reasons for considering each worthy of Special Commendation and be attached to FD-185a.
2. "Excellent," "Satisfactory" or "Unsatisfactory" adjective ratings will depend upon the composite result of evaluating all rated elements rather than following any mechanical formulas; however, for an employee to be rated "Excellent" he must not be rated unsatisfactory on any performance evaluation factors on the rating guide and check-list and must be rated "Excellent" or "Outstanding" on the majority of such rating factors. Good judgment must be exercised to insure that adjective rating is reasonable in the light of elements rated.
- A. Any element rated "Unsatisfactory" must be supported by narrative comments.
- B. An official rating of "Unsatisfactory" must be supported in writing stating (1) wherein the performance is unsatisfactory, (2) the facts of the (90-day) prior warning, and (3) the efforts made after the warning to help the employee bring his performance up to a satisfactory level and must be attached to FD-185a.

NARRATIVE COMMENTS

1. PERSONAL APPEARANCE AND PERSONALITY:

SA Stukenbroeker presents a mature and dignified appearance. He has an excellent personality and has demonstrated his ability on outside contacts.

2. ABILITY TO PARTICIPATE IN RAIDS AND DANGEROUS ASSIGNMENTS:

N. A.

3. LIMITATIONS ON AVAILABILITY; PHYSICAL LIMITATIONS AFFECTING PERFORMANCE; AND SICK LEAVE INFORMATION:

This Agent is completely available, has a good sick leave record and there are no physical limitations affecting his performance in any way.

4. TYPE OF CASES OR WORK HANDLED AND APPRAISAL OF OVER-ALL PERFORMANCE, INCLUDING ABILITY TO HANDLE COMPLICATED INVESTIGATIVE MATTERS AND SUPERVISION REQUIRED:

During the rating period, SA Stukenbroeker, on a number of occasions, has handled detailed research projects primarily with a security angle. He is a most competent researcher and can always be depended upon to turn out an exceptional product regardless of the subject matter and the deadline.

During the rating period this Special Agent continued to function most effectively in representing the FBI on the subject of communism before civic, religious and school groups. He has handled commitments in widely separated parts of the country and has seen to it that maximum benefit is accrued from each series of engagements. Each time when out of the city SA Stukenbroeker has appeared on television and radio in addition to handling his scheduled lectures. To illustrate, in one trip lasting just a little over 2 days in Kentucky during the rating period, this Special Agent made 11 different appearances before civic groups, etc. It is to be noted that each appearance required a different presentation. The response to his speeches has been outstanding indeed.

J.D.

5. NUMBER OF INCENTIVE AWARDS AND COMMENDATIONS RECEIVED:

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for permitting Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroker to come to High Point, North Carolina and speak to the members of the several Lions Clubs, their ladies and guest at the annual Lion Zion Social on March 18, 1965, on the subject of Communism.

Dr. Stukenbroker presented his subject as only a master of the subject could. He did an outstanding job, presenting the subject in a very understandable way, and I am quite certain that all in attendance went away better informed upon the subject (and as you have so ably termed them "Masters of Deceit") are attempting to do to our American way of life.

I wish you would personally convey our sincere thanks and appreciation to Dr. Stukenbroker for a good job well done.

If the occasion should arise that we the members of the Lions Club can assist you or any agents in any matter of mutual interest, please do not hesitate to call upon us.

With best wishes and kind regards, I am

Dear Sir:

For inclusion in the fund to be paid to the designated beneficiary of any Special Agent of the FBI who has previously contributed to this fund and who dies from any cause except self-destruction while employed as a Special Agent, I am forwarding herewith (by Check - Money Order) the sum of $10, payable to S.A.I.F., to be included in said fund. Payment will be made, for death by self-destruction after the Agent has been a member of the fund for a continuous period of two years. It is understood and agreed that the sum tendered herewith is a voluntary, gratuitous contribution to said fund which I understand is to be administered in the following manner.

The Director of the FBI will appoint a committee which shall consider all matters pertaining to the acquisition, safe keeping and expending of said fund, which committee will recommend appropriate action to the Director in pertinent matters. The Assistant Director of the Administrative Division of the FBI shall receive all contributions and account for same to the Director. Upon the death of any Special Agent who is a member of said fund the appointed committee will consider the case and submit a recommendation to the Director as to its conclusions. Appropriate instructions will then be issued to the Assistant Director of the Administrative Division, directing him to pay to the designated beneficiary the sum of $10,000. The liability of the fund shall not under any circumstances exceed the amount of monies in the fund at the time any liability shall occur.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Recently it was my good fortune to hear Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker speak to the Jennings Scholars in Public Auditorium, Cleveland, Ohio. Because Dr. Alden Blankenship of the Educational Research Council asked me to introduce Dr. Stukenbroeker, I was in a position to observe the audience as he spoke.

From my observation it appeared to me that no one took his eyes from the speaker during his one hour formal presentation and for the half hour in which he answered questions.

Dr. Stukenbroeker made an outstanding contribution. The ideas he presented were clear, he used excellent illustrations, stuck to his subject, and introduced humour to the context of his address at the proper time.

In the question period we were only able to cover a small percentage of the questions that were submitted in writing. We attempted to group the questions and provide as much additional information as possible.

Dr. Blankenship had arranged a luncheon with three members of the Educational Research Council staff and approximately seven school administrators. During the luncheon we again had a delightful experience and found Dr. Stukenbroeker to be frank, willing to explain answers, stick to policy of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and above all, indicate when any question was not in his specialized field.

This proved to be a delightful experience. In my introduction I attempted to make reference to the fact that the Federal Bureau of Investigation operated under laws and their program was directed towards service to a democracy upholding the ideals that are precious and important to us. During the entire period of the speech, the questions, and during the luncheon, I was again reminded of the high quality of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and have renewed appreciation and enthusiasm for those on your staff who carry out their assignments so ably.

On 3/8/65, [redacted] Las Vegas, appeared at this office and advised that she had attended the speech given by SA STUKENBROEKER at Nevada Southern University on 2/25/65. She advised that she felt this was one of the best made speeches of its type that she had ever heard. She said to her it was an "eye opener" and she is only sorry that everyone in this area did not take the opportunity to hear it. She said she thought it was "excellent public relations for the FBI."

[redacted] advised that she had been most disappointed that she had found nothing in the local papers regarding the speech as she thinks it is the duty of the newspapers to publish as much as possible the facts that SA STUKENBROEKER presented. She stated that she is sending a letter to both of the local newspapers and furnished a copy of the letter to this office, a Xerox copy of which is enclosed. She said that in the event her letter was not published the Bureau might be interested in her feelings in this matter and that this letter might show her appreciation to the Bureau for making SA STUKENBROEKER available for such an appearance.

To date this letter has not appeared in either daily newspaper but normally letters of this type appear in the Sunday edition.

The Bureau will be sent a copy of the clipping in the event it is published.

It is felt that [redacted] letter is an excellent one and very favorable to the Bureau. It is also felt that in view of her concern and the action she has taken that a letter of appreciation to her would be in order. Indicies of this office contain no information regarding [redacted]

March 6, 1965

To The Editor:

On Thursday, February 25, Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker, a special agent of the public information department of the F. B. I., spoke at the local University campus. We owe thanks to the Nevada Southern Confederated Students for arranging this meeting and for allowing the public to attend. It is to be hoped they will provide many more meetings of this type.

Dr. Stukenbroeker cleared up a misconception held by many that the F. B. I. is a law enforcement agency. Its duties are purely investigative in fields as directed by law or by request from some governmental department. Upon completing an investigation, the F. B. I. prepares a report of its findings and turns this report over to the proper agency for action or non action, as that agency sees fit. The F. B. I.'s part in the case is then completed. The other governmental agencies are not even obliged to report back to the F. B. I. as to what action is taken on its reports.

Dr. Stukenbroeker said that the Soviet Embassies in Washington D. C. and at the United Nations in New York are the backbone of the Communist Espionage Conspiracy in this country. This includes the embassies of the Soviet Bloc countries, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Poland, etc. The Communist Party of the United States has a direct allegiance to Soviet Russia's Communistic government and is working solely toward Soviet goals. Underground espionage agents, both in the U. S. Communist Party and secretly imported by the Soviets, are dedicated workers for the Soviet cause. The accredited officials of the Soviet Bloc Embassies are working openly to obtain any and all information to send back to Russia to be sifted, sorted, and put together to aid the Soviets in whatever way possible. The F. B. I.

estimates about 70% of the Embassy personnel is sent to our country with some definite espionage assignment. Two Soviet Embassy officials, openly attending an American Business Convention, were observed carting off 250 pounds of literature made available to the Conventioneers.

All of these groups must rely on the Soviet Bloc Embassies as an outlet to Russia for the information gained through these espionage activities. When asked if Communist China has an espionage system in our country, Dr. Stukenbroeker said, "No, for the simple reason that we do not recognize Red China, and it therefore does not have an Embassy in the United States." We drew our own conclusions.

Dr. Stukenbroeker spoke of the U. S. Communist Party's desperate desire to be accepted and to become respectable in the eyes of Americans. This alone would make the espionage work and the eventual take-over of our government so much the easier for them. And, this is their goal.

There is a massive recruiting effort being conducted by the U. S. Communist Party on our college campuses by the formation of the W. E. B. Du Bois Clubs. This is the most ambitious recruiting program of our nation's youth in recent years. Dr. Stukenbroeker said they are responsible for the recent demonstrations in California against the U. S. bombing of North Viet Nam. In February, the syndicated columnist, Fulton Lewis Jr., reported the W. E. B. Du-Bois Clubs take credit for the Free Speech riots on the Berkeley campus.

Now, all of this information, and much more, came as news to many of us who attended this meeting. Of the thousands who did not attend, how many have heard this? Why aren't these facts spread all over the front pages of our newspapers? Does the Conspiracy of Silence on the part of the press, which we are hearing about more and more frequently, actually exist?

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On Saturday last it was my pleasure to listen to one of your F.B.I. representatives, Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker, as he addressed the Jennings Scholars in Cleveland.

We consider the message which Dr. Stukenbroeker brings as one of great importance. His presentation was excellent and his facts amplify documented. We commend you and your organization on the act of supplying such an experience to interested citizens. We can think of no better deterrent to the growth of communism in our country than such an expression of the truth about it.

The above comments are made in light of experiences which have been mine on two occasions to visit and study education behind the iron curtain.

Several of my observations were reported to Dr. Stukenbroeker at lunch following his lecture.

Your concern and the interest of your Bureau in carrying on this work is most appreciated.

Sincerely,

Stukenbroeker, Special Agent, of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, before THE EVERY WEDNESDAY LECTURE SERIES.

His lecture on "Communism in the United States Today" was one of the most outstanding we have had in nearly two years of conducting this Lecture Series.

Dr. Stukenbroeker immediately established rapport with his audience and his talk was a revelation to many listeners who knew little of the vital work being done by your fine organization - in combating the widespread Communistic influence in this country.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

May I add a note of appreciation on behalf of Western Kentucky State College and me in bringing to the College Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker to participate in the Rodes-Helm Lectures on January 12th and 13th.

Dr. Stukenbroeker provided for the student body and citizens of Bowling Green an outstanding discussion of Communism in the United States and the nature of the work being conducted by the FBI to combat this menace. It was particularly interesting to me as I was formerly a special agent, and I am presently a member of the Board of Regents of Western.

May I also take this opportunity to assure you of the high esteem in which the FBI is held by the people in this country.

Your attention is directed to the attached letter from SAC Seattle dated April 22nd concerning the series of speeches given by the above-mentioned Special Agent in the Seattle area during the early part of April. It will be noted that Stukenbroeker gave a total of 5 television speeches, 14 radio appearances and 14 speeches before school and civic groups throughout Washington State. I think you will agree that SA Stukenbroeker was very busy indeed during his visit to Washington State.

SAC Milnes observes that very favorable response was received and that he would recommend Stukenbroeker be commended.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this matter be referred to the Administrative Division so that an appropriate note can be sent SA Stukenbroeker.

The FBI NA retraining session for 1965, NYS Chapter, was held at the Sheraton Inn, Binghamton, N.Y., during the period 6/27-30/65. The general chairman and presiding officer at the retraining session was DELBERT E. PEMBRIDGE, COP, Endicott, N.Y. PD, current president of the NYS Chapter.

Attached hereto is a program, which sets out in detail the various lectures and panel discussions. In addition is a banquet program, which was the concluding feature of the four day meeting.

Assistant Director JOHN F. MALONE of the New York Office and SACs VICTOR TURYN of Buffalo and VERNON H. BAILEY, Albany, were present throughout the conference and each delivered remarks of welcome at the opening day of the session. In addition, SAC, Albany, presided at the formal installation of new officers of the NYS Chapter at the installation exercises held during the course of the banquet. One of the high points of the retraining session was the address entitled "Communism in the U.S.", delivered by Dr. FERN C. STUKENBROEKER of Bureau Headquarters.

particularly noted by several of the NA Associates who were present that SA STUKENBROEKER had, in their opinion, treated of the complexities concerning the communist menace in the U.S. in a manner especially appealing and easily understood by the lay person, whose knowledge of the problem was greatly improved by attendance at this lecture.

MR. Callahan It is my recommendation that SA STUKENBROEKER be commended by the Director for his outstanding lecture and significant contribution to the success of the retraining session.

TRAINING DIVISION AGREES. SP

77 NA Associates registered for the entire conference. 245 persons were in attendance at the banquet, which was the concluding feature of the meeting on 6/30/65. Those in attendance at the banquet included the Mayors of the cities of Binghamton, Endicott and Johnson City, N.Y. and their wives, as well as many other prominent individuals in the area.

During the business section conducted on 6/30/65, the Committee on Resolutions of the NYS Chapter of the FBI NA Associates unanimously adopted a resolution expressing gratitude to Director HOOVER for his outstanding leadership and contributions over many decades to the profession of law enforcement. Resolutions of gratitude to the Assistant Director in Charge of the New York Office and to the SACs of Albany and Buffalo for their part in the planning of the program were also adopted by the Committee and unanimously approved by all NA Associates present at the conference.

All of the above listed officers and members of the Board of Governors were installed by me at the request of the Associates. It is recommended that a letter of congratulations be sent by the Bureau to the newly elected president - THOMAS J. O'ROURKE, Chief of the New York City Transit Police. The NYO has advised me that there is no information of a derogatory nature concerning O'ROURKE in NY files.

It is noted Inspector [REDACTED] of the Rochester, N.Y. PD, the newly elected Historian, is, in fact, the only new officer elected, all other officers having moved up to a higher rank as officers of the Chapter.

It is my feeling that the 1965 retraining session of the NYS Chapter of the FBI NA Associates was an outstanding event, both in respect to the total number of Associates who were in attendance and in respect to the high caliber of the program throughout the meeting, which was met with enthusiasm and outspoken praise on the part of the Associates who were present. Appropriate coverage by the several news media in the Binghamton area was afforded the retraining session. I feel that the prestige of the Bureau, and specifically that of the NYS NA Chapter, was considerably enhanced by the meeting.

During the past year SAs [redacted] and [redacted] have devoted much time and thought to the preparation of the 1965 retraining session of the NYS Chapter of the FBI NA Associates. I feel that much of the success realized at the meeting is attributable to the untiring efforts and thoughtful planning afforded the matter by these experienced agents. It is, therefore, my recommendation that letters of commendation be sent to SAs [redacted] for their capable handling of the many administrative details that went into the proper planning of the 1965 retraining session.

TO THE NEW YORK STATE CHAPTER OF THE FBI NATIONAL ACADEMY ASSOCIATES

It is always a pleasure to greet this group. There is for me a deep sense of satisfaction in all things pertaining to the FBI National Academy Associates, but in none so much as in retraining sessions. As you gather here, your fellow alumni are assembling in Atlanta, Georgia, for one of the first two Sectional Retraining Sessions to be held this year. Your state will be the site of one of two similar such sessions to be held next year.

Your willingness to expend time, effort and money in order to make possible a reciprocal exchange of knowledge is additional proof of your dedication to the advancement of law enforcement. Your presence does much to foster the spirit of cooperation and mutual respect which are so basic to any solution to the terrible problem of crime confronting all of us.

My associates join me in extending greetings to the members of the New York State Chapter of the FBI National Academy Associates. You have our best wishes for a profitable and highly successful retraining session.

Dear Sir:

For inclusion in the fund to be paid to the designated beneficiary of any Special Agent of the FBI who has previously contributed to this fund and who dies from any cause except self-destruction while employed as a Special Agent, I am forwarding herewith (by Check - Money Order) the sum of $10, payable to S.A.I.F., to be included in said fund. Payment will be made for death by self-destruction after the Agent has been a member of the fund for a continuous period of two years. It is understood and agreed that the sum tendered herewith is a voluntary, gratuitous contribution to said fund which I understand is to be administered in the following manner:

The Director of the FBI will appoint a committee which shall consider all matters pertaining to the acquisition, safe keeping and expending of said fund, which committee will recommend appropriate action to the Director in pertinent matters. The Assistant Director of the Administrative Division of the FBI shall receive all contributions and account for same to the Director. Upon the death of any Special Agent who is a member of said fund the appointed committee will consider the case and submit a recommendation to the Director as to its conclusions. Appropriate instructions will then be issued to the Assistant Director of the Administrative Division, directing him to pay to the designated beneficiary the sum of $10,000. The liability of the fund shall not under any circumstances exceed the amount of monies in the fund at the time any liability shall occur.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation

Dear Mr. Hoover,

b6
b7C

A few weeks ago, a member of the headquarters staff of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Mr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker, spoke at our local colleges on the subject "Internal Security." His message was very informative and enlightening (However, it did nothing to dispel my anxiety about current trends in our Nation towards disrespect and open contempt for law and order and the increasing dependence on the Government with lack of personal responsibility). It might be somewhat encouraging to add that the (few) students who attended the speech were obviously concerned and politely attentive.

The Manion Forum of May 30 consisted of an interview by Marilyn Manion with Chief William H. Parker of the Los Angeles Police Force and covered the broad topic of the problems of law enforcement-- and Police Review Boards. During the coarse of this interview, Chief Parker referred to one of your recent bulletins to law enforcement officers.

I would appreciate it very much if you would send me a copy of this bulletin on police review boards. It will be an addition to my "arsenal" of information which I use to prod my otherwise good friends and neighbors from their maddening state of unconcern and apathy.

You and your staff are doing a superb and vital job in the defense of our Nation. Thank you and God bless you.

Respectfully,

It was certainly thoughtful of you to write on June 10th concerning Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker's address at your annual dinner. I was glad to learn that his remarks were so well received, and you may be sure it was a pleasure to designate Special Agent Stukenbroeker to fill this engagement. He enjoyed speaking to your group

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On behalf of the Grand Lodge of Nebraska,
I sincerely thank you for making Doctor Stukenbroeker available to us as the speaker at our annual dinner.

Doctor Stukenbroeker gave us a timely, informative, and powerful talk. As you have probably heard before, he held the close attention of his audience, and could have spoken much longer and he would still have had their attention.

We are very grateful to Doctor Stukenbroeker not only for his fine talk but for the time he devoted to answering questions after the talk. Groups of individuals surrounded him for more than an hour and a half after the close of our meeting.

The attendance at our meeting was very good.
We actually served 920, and many others came in after the dinner was served to listen to Doctor Stukenbroeker.
There were, therefore, more than 1,000 present for his talk. Those present represented 270 different communities over the State of Nebraska.

I am completely sold on the Federal Bureau of Investigation making Doctor Stukenbroeker available to organizations over the country. He has a real message and he is speaking on a subject which needs this type of publicity.

Everyone I visited with since Doctor Stukenbroeker's talk has spoken highly of it, and has admitted that it has given them a new insight into the problem we face.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On May 11 in Camden, New Jersey, Dr. F. C. Stukenbroeker talked to the Camden-Philadelphia Chapter of the American Society for Industrial Security on the subject "Industrial Espionage - Communist Inspired". On occasion the speaker's effectiveness can be measured by the amount of time his audience spends in asking questions. Dr. Stukenbroeker very graciously consented to a question and answer period which the Program Chairman finally had to cut short since the amount of time expended far exceeded that spent during the previous ten meetings during the year.

I thought you would be interested in the fact that after the meeting one of our professional members described Dr. Stukenbroeker as a "real Pro".

I was extremely impressed by the way he handled himself and his audience and I want to thank you for making it possible for him to address the group.

FROM : SAC, SEATTLE (80-5) PD

ATTENTION: CRIME RECORDS DIVISION

SAC SUBJECT: SPEECHES
SEATTLE DIVISION

As the Bureau files will reflect, SA FERN C. STUKENBROEKER was in the Seattle Division during the week of 4/12/65 and made a large number of appearances, before high schools, colleges, business clubs and on radio and TV.

Specifically he made 5 television appearances in Spokane, Seattle and Yakima, Washington. He made 14 radio appearances in Spokane and Yakima, and he made 14 speeches before students of the Joel E. Ferris High School, Spokane, the North Central High School in Spokane, the students and faculty members of Whitman College in that city and the Chamber of Commerce. In Cheney, Washington, he appeared on the political forum of the Eastern Washington State College. In Seattle he appeared before 2 undergraduate groups in the Political Science Department at the University of Washington, before a group of students and young professors in the History Department and before the Cosmopolitan Club, made up principally of foreign students at the same university.

In Yakima he appeared before the student body of the Davis High School, the seniors of Eisenhower High School, the students of the Yakima Valley Junior College on 2 different occasions, and before the Rotary Club, as well as the television and radio appearances.

I appeared with him on the television appearance in Spokane, Seattle and Yakima. He made a total of 33 speeches, 5 television speeches, 14 radio and 14 appearances before various groups. The Bureau is requested to credit this office with that number of speeches.

REC-141 67-490-2495

I accompanied Mr. STUKENBROEKER on the majority of these appearances. He makes an excellent appearance and speaks exceptionally well and is a credit to the Bureau.

His appearances before the students, as well as before the business and civic groups, were outstanding. The message which he delivers is clear, in keeping with the audience and the applause was tremendous.

The school officials before whom he appeared were most grateful for the Bureau's thoughtfulness in making him available.

I believe that the wisdom of having SA STUKENBROEKER appear before groups as outlined is indicated by the response he has received.

In view of his exceptional performance, I would recommend that he be commended by the Bureau for his services in this Division.

CONSULTATION REPORT

29 November 1965

This 46 year old Caucasian male is referred to Cardiology Clinic because of premature atrial contractions and a history of labile hypertension. In 1954 he had an episode, while working in the garden, of sudden shortness of breath with a pain in his side that caused him to pause and rest for about an hour, but was unassociated with any other symptoms and subsided without any sequelae. He has been since somewhat restricted strenuous activity but leads an active normal life. Since his late teens he has been often told during physical examinations that his blood pressure was elevated but after short periods of rest during the examinations the blood pressure would usually return to near normal. He is not really aware of the premature contractions even after they were mentioned to him. The remainder of his past history and review of systems and family history are not contributory.

Physical examination: Blood pressure initially 170/100, after five minutes supine 140/90. Blood pressure after five minutes standing was 140/94, pulse 70 and regular throughout examination. Respirations 12. Fundi normal. Neck revealed no evidence of abnormal pulsations or abnormal venous distention. The heart was not enlarged. The sounds were of good quality. There were no systolic or diastolic murmurs or extra sounds. Chest was clear. The abdomen revealed no organomegaly. The peripheral pulses were bilaterally equal and adequate and there was no peripheral edema.

Electrocardiogram: I reviewed the cardiogram precipitating this consultation and his previous records and they are all entirely within normal limits, although the most recent cardiogram of October 1965 shows occasional supraventricular premature contractions, within normal limits.

Cardiac x-ray series: Within normal limits.

Impression:

Labile blood pressure.

Discussion: I do not consider the premature supraventricular contractions to be of any significance and have attempted to reassure the patient. The 30 year history of a labile blood pressure leads me to conclude that this is of benign origin and the normal funduscopic and negative x-rays and cardiogram would not lead me to any further evaluation at this time. I have imposed no restrictions on him but have suggested that he maintain his current excellent weight, avoid caffeine containing products. Thank you for the consultation.

Dear Mr. Stukenbrocker:

I want to commend you for the splendid manner in which you presented a series of speeches in the State of Georgia, in particular your address before the National Seminar of the American Society for Industrial Security.

Your lectures were most enthusiastically received and it is apparent from the favorable comments that you represented the Bureau most capably, which has done much to enhance our prestige. I am most appreciative of your fine services.

Dear Sir:

On October 13, 1965, Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker of your staff spoke at a luncheon of the 11th Annual Seminar of the American Society for Industrial Security (ASIS), attended by approximately 500 members and guests.

I thought you would like to know that Dr. Stukenbroeker gave an excellent presentation on Soviet Espionage in the United States. His talk was particularly effective in relating the espionage threat to government and industrial leaders present responsible for the protection of classified and proprietary information. I heard many favorable comments concerning Dr. Stukenbroeker's speech. He is an outstanding Bureau representative.

A number of members of ASIS commented favorably to me concerning the excellent degree of cooperation existing between members of ASIS and the FBI. Please be assured of our continued cooperation and best wishes for your success and that of the FBI in the difficult and complex role the FBI performs.

Sincerely,

We regret that you were unable to be with us at our Seminar in Atlanta last week, but quite understand that much more important duties prevented it. It was kind of you to take the trouble to acknowledge our invitation and to wish us success.

We appreciate also very much the very cordial greetings conveyed to us at our Seminar by Dr. Stukenbroeker. They were very well received.

So also was the excellent speech delivered by Dr. Stukenbroeker, who made an excellent impression. He is a first-rate speaker and represented you most ably.

Also warmly appreciated was the participation in our Workshop Panels by your Atlanta SAC, J. K. Ponder. This was an excellent panel and contributed richly to the success of our Seminar. It was interesting to me to realize that I had known Joe Ponder in Denver in 1946-47, while he was assigned to that office and while I was practicing law with my father.

All in all, therefore, let me on behalf of our Society thank you for your continued support and encouragement. We shall try always to deserve it.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

It is with a great deal of personal pride that I write this letter. As you know, there is no person in this part of the country who is a better friend or booster of the FBI than I. Your leadership and accomplishments will always be a challenge to patriotic Americans everywhere. This example of devotion to duty was carried out by three of your representatives in our recent Seminar in Atlanta.

First, Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker spoke at our luncheon meeting on October 13, 1965, and he completely captivated the audience. Over five hundred responsible members of management from industry throughout our nation were held spellbound by Dr. Stukenbroeker's remarks. His manner, preparation and sincere presentation are indeed worthy of special recognition. My associates and I could not have been more pleased.

Secondly, SAC J. K. Ponder headed a panel on "Banking Security" and he was assisted by SA [redacted] and several others. This particular workshop was something new in our industrial security program and I feel it set the stage for future similar panels. Mr. Ponder's control of the panel, his outstanding preparation and his representation of the FBI made me proud to have been an agent. Messrs Ponder and [redacted] were very well prepared and they did an excellent job. This workshop was one of the best on our program.

I also thought you would like to know of the excellent radio, TV and newspaper coverage that these gentlemen received during their presentations and during special interviews. I happened to hear one of the interviews with Dr. Stukenbroeker and he was truly outstanding.

May I again thank you for your courtesy in allowing these gentlemen to help us during our Seminar. Please convey our heartfelt thanks to them.

I extend my sincere best wishes for your continued good health and I do hope you will continue as Director for years to come.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker spoke today on communism at Wesleyan University here and received a standing ovation from the student body. Unfortunately it was during business hours and I was unable to attend but I did receive a complete report from my daughter who is a student there.

With a proliferation of communist or pro-communist speakers on college campuses in this country it is a wonderful experience to have your office designate a man to visit these same campuses, alert the student body to the dangers of communism and expound the thesis of Americanism.

It would indeed be welcome if your office could have a representative speak to PTA groups and alert many parents who may be lulled by the current anti-anti-communist drive.

As a refugee from Red Cuba who has been granted the privilege of rebuilding my life in this country, I want to heartily commend you on your initiative and wish you the greatest success in this endeavour which is so timely and so necessary.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Will you please send me two copies of the current Uniform Crime Reports, and any new material you have regarding youthful criminality and communism? I am still receiving speech requests monthly, and continue to base them upon the work of your fine organization. It has been eight years since I retired from a branch of the National Security Agency, and I miss the many contacts we had with your men.

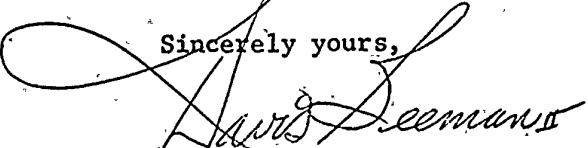

Please give my regards to Dr. Fern Stukenbroeker. I often hear comments on the fine address he gave to my fellow Oklahomans during his visit in April of 1963. There is no way to measure the amount of good that can come from visits of this type, but I hope you personally continue to let the public know the cold, hard facts about our youth situation. In Scouting, we can see the effects as more and more adults join us in our efforts to give boys citizenship training and character building.

Incidentally, you are receiving very good copy in our local Tulsa papers. From the frequency of news releases with your credit line, I'm sure they must publish all received, and they are given prominent space.

Any additional information concerning youth and a personal quote that can be used to emphasize your concern about them, would be most helpful.

Thanks for your past help.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroker of your office has just finished four strenuous days here with us in our Annual Series of Anti-Communism Seminars at our local high schools. In this four days Dr. Stukenbroker has made twenty three speeches, has appeared on two radio stations for interviews and has been interviewed or depicted on three of our four television channels. He has spoken to about fifteen thousand boys and girls and their teachers in formal auditorium programs and on ten occasions has made individual appearances before government classes consisting of from thirty to one hundred and fifty boys and girls in addition to the auditorium appearances in the schools where he spoke. We were able to carry out Dr. Stukenbroker's appearances in these schools in cooperation with the American Legions' "Operation Show Your Colors", which added a new idea to these appearances.

We want you to know that Dr. Stukenbroker has made a host of friends for himself and for your Bureau in Indianapolis in the four years he has appeared here. Each year he seems to make new friends and keep all the old ones. He certainly is a worthy representative of the fine reputation of the FBI and we know without question, you appreciate his efforts as much as we do.

We want to thank you very much for making his appearance possible here and I'm quite sure that this Post will want to continue these Seminars next year. I hope I may have the privilege of writing to you again for the assignment of a speaker, either Dr. Stukenbroker or someone else and I hope with your wisdom you will feel that this effort is worthwhile and that such a speaker will be made available.

Thank you again for your fine cooperation and we only wish there was some adequate way we could thank Dr. Stukenbroker for the fine work he has done.

I wanted to call to your attention the exceptionally fine response to a series of 12 speeches made by the above-mentioned Special Agent in Georgia around the middle of this month. The principal address was before a luncheon of the National Seminar of the American Society for Industrial Security. Some 500 of the Nation's leading security experts were in the audience. This was a three-day affair, and Stukenbroeker was preceded at a corresponding luncheon the day before by Werner Von Braun. At the corresponding luncheon on the day following Stukenbroeker's speech, the principal speaker was the President of Lockheed Aircraft. T. E. Dyar, who initially extended the invitation for Stukenbroeker to speak, wrote the Director on October 20th and stated that Stukenbroeker "completely captivated the audience."

In addition to the principal address, Fern C. Stukenbroeker appeared on a radio program and a television program on the leading radio and television stations in the State of Georgia.

He spoke to students at Shorter College, Rome, Georgia, and to students at Berry College in the same city. He participated in three radio interviews in Rome also.

At Macon, Georgia, Stukenbroeker addressed the Law School at Mercer University and then some 700 students, faculty and guests at Wesleyan College at Macon. He addressed the Exchange Club there and also gave a 30-minute radio interview in addition to being interviewed by two newspaper reporters.

SAC J. K. Ponder of the Atlanta Office by letter of October 21st said Stukenbroeker's performance in all appearances was outstanding and that his presentations were extremely well received. The President at Wesleyan College said it was unusual for the student assembly to give a standing ovation to a speaker such as Stukenbroeker received. SAC Ponder stated that Stukenbroeker was to be commended for his outstanding performance on this series of appearances.

FBI Agent Stresses Need to Be Better Informed About Communism

By BARBARA THORNHILL

A special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation today told Mercer University law students that the best way to fight communism is through an informed citizenry working within the democratic process.

Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker said, "Everyone should know more on a factual basis, so they can understand the dialectical and historical workings of communism.

"This way they will be able to recognize what a Communist front is and can avoid being duped. The young people who study communism can compare it with our system of liberty under law and see the superiority of our way of life."

He stressed the fact that communism should be fought within the law.

"We have sufficient strength to defeat communism within our own law. Anyone who takes the law into his own hands is doing this country a great disservice.

"Nothing could be more dangerous than extra-legal activities. Vigilante tactics are wrong. We must work within the law to defeat an enemy who is very, very dangerous."

Dr. Stukenbroeker said, "In fighting communism, just being against something is not enough, you must be for something, such as the positive facts of our way of life."

Speaking at the bench and bar series of the Walter F. George School of Law, Dr. Stukenbroeker said the FBI has jurisdiction over criminal and securities. He noted, however, that the FBI is a fact-finding organization only.

"We do not evaluate, interpret or recommend."

In the security field, he said, the FBI is mainly concerned with Soviet intelligence and the Communist Party, USA.

He said Soviet intelligence falls into two main categories—the agents, diplomatic and deepcover illegal, and the gathering of information, public and private.

"The USA is Moscow spy target No. 1," Dr. Stukenbroeker said. "The backbone is the Soviet diplomatic personnel in the embassies here in the United States and in the United Nations."

In addition to these, he said, one of the big problems is the undercover agent who is given American identification and is slipped into the country illegally.

He cited as an example Col. Rudolph Abel, a Soviet spy who was arrested and later exchanged for U2 Pilot Francis Gary Powers.

Dr. Stukenbroeker said one of the ways these agents transmit information to their Soviet superiors is through a microdot process. He said an 8x11-inch sheet of paper could be put on a piece of microfilm so small it would fit in the period on a typewriter.

Dr. Stukenbroeker said the Soviets are especially concerned with the gathering of classified information, but also gather the large amount of public information that is available.

He said the agents travel a great deal and their first stop in a town would be the chamber of commerce office to get any information on the area that is available.

"They want to know where the industrial sites are and what type of things are manufactured in any given area."

Dr. Stukenbroeker said the Communist party, USA, is another problem the FBI faces.

"The Communist party is trying to gain a new image of respectability. They want to convince the American people that the party is a legitimate political party within the democratic tradition—which it isn't. Why? Because they are trying to break down our vigilance against communism."

He said the Communist party, which was founded in 1919, is primarily interested in the youth field.

"Three years ago, the party established a National Lecture Bureau to send speakers to college campuses. They only send the top speakers such as Gus Hall, who is general secretary of the party, and Dr. Hubert Spieker and Dr. Hyman Lumer. The last two are well educated men who have Ph.D. degrees from American colleges."

Dr. Stukenbroeker also said the Communist party attempts to get at young people through the Dubois Club, which was formed in San Francisco last year. "There are now Dubois Clubs on 35 campuses actively promoting communism."

"How should we view communism?" he asked. "Let's not underestimate communism. It represents a distinct danger to America; but let's not overestimate it, let's not give communism the strength it doesn't have."

"We should look at communism from a factual point of view, sanely and rationally. We have the power, wisdom and ability to defeat communism within our democratic framework."

"The best defense against the ideology of communism is the development of a well-informed citizenry. Everyone should know more about what communism is. As we study communism, we will appreciate more our own American heritage."

In answering questions, Dr. Stukenbroeker said the Communist party is extremely interested in the civil rights movement. He said the Communist party has sent people to take part in demonstrations and is seeking to use the unrest to further their own movement.

He also said Communist China does not present a major threat to the United States security at this moment because it does not have a base in this country for intelligence since it is not recognized by the United States and is not a member of the United Nations.

He said, however, that Chinese Communists are trying to penetrate this country and Red China will soon become a major problem.

Dr. Stukenbroeker was introduced by Travis L. Lynch, senior agent for the Macon FBI sub-station. He also spoke at Wesleyan College, where he received a standing ovation from the students, and at a meeting of the Macon Exchange Club.

Dr. Stukenbroeker entered the FBI as a special agent in 1942 doing investigative work in the field. In 1948 he was assigned to the headquarters staff of the FBI. J. Edgar Hoover has designated Dr. Stukenbroeker to appear throughout the United States as an FBI speaker on communism.

He is a graduate of Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., where he received his B.S. degree in journalism and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees, majoring in European history.

FBI Agent to Give Talks on Communism

Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker, a special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation more than 20 years, and an expert on communism, will speak Thursday morning at Mercer University and Wesleyan College.

His talk at Mercer at 10 a.m. will be a lecture in the Walter F. George School of Law bench and bar series. He will speak in the west room of the law library.

Dr. Stukenbroeker will speak at 11:30 a.m. Thursday in Porter Auditorium at Wesleyan College.

Dr. Stukenbroeker entered the FBI as a special agent in 1942 and has served in the Baltimore, Washington, and Cleveland divisions. In 1948, after almost seven years of investigative work in the field, he was assigned to the headquarters staff of the FBI.

His work with the FBI has been primarily in the field of internal security, involving investigation of the Communist party, USA, and Soviet espionage.

Both as an agent assigned to J. Edgar Hoover's staff, and on field cases, he has closely studied the ramifications of the Communist conspiracy in this country.

Hoover has designated Dr. Stukenbroeker to appear throughout the United States as an FBI speaker on communism. He has spoken before a large number of law enforcement, civic, religious, educational, fraternal, and other organizations on the strategy and tactics of communism.

Dr. Stukenbroeker is a graduate of Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., where he received his Bachelor of Science (Journalism), Master of Arts, and Ph.D. degrees, majoring in European history.

The bench and bar series at Mercer was inaugurated last year to bring prominent legal authorities to the campus for discussions with students in the Walter F. George School of Law.

FBI Specialist Speaks Here On Soviet Threat

By ERIC WELCH

The Soviet's number one spy agent is the United States, and an estimated 70 per cent of the Russian diplomatic officials in the U. S. have intelligence assignments, a special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation said yesterday.

Dr. Fern C. Stukenbrocker, who holds a Ph.D. degree from Washington University at St. Louis, Mo., was in Macon yesterday to speak to students at Mercer University law school and Wesleyan University and to the Macon Exchange Club.

He has been an FBI agent 20 years and has been designated by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to appear throughout the country as an FBI speaker on communism.

"The backbone of Soviet intelligence is the diplomatic corps," he said, indicating the officials of Russia and her satellite nations who are assigned to diplomatic missions at Washington, D. C., and at the United Nations at New York. He said we face Soviet Bloc intelligence.

And that Soviet intelligence is an integral part of the Soviet state policy," Dr. Stukenbrocker said. "It is a continuing policy, and it has long range and immediate goals. They have trained, skilled, professional agents."

One of the ways these agents transmit information to their Soviet superiors is through a microdot process. He said an 8x11-inch sheet of paper could be put on a piece of microfilm so small it would fit in the period on a typewriter.

Soviets are interested, Dr. Stukenbrocker said, in general public information as well as classified information.

He said the agents travel a great deal and their first stop in a town would be the chamber of commerce office to get any information on the area that is available.

"They want to know where the industrial sites are and what types of things are manufactured in any given area."

Dr. Stukenbrocker said that although FBI work on Soviet intelligence normally receives very little publicity, "it is a phase of our work to which we have allocated a high percentage of our 64,000 agents."

As an agent on the Bureau's headquarters staff, he works in a supervisory position where he looks over reports sent in by field agents throughout the country. He is considered an expert on Soviet intelligence and the work of the Communist party in the U. S.

"The Communist party, USA, is striving to gain a new image of respectability," he said. "They want to convince the American people that the party is a legitimate political party within the democratic tradition—which it isn't. Why? Because they are trying to break down our vigilance against communism."

He said the Communist party, which was founded in 1919, is primarily interested in the "youth field." He pointed to the National Lecture Bureau established three years ago to send communist speakers to college campuses and noted the Dubois Club, formed in San Francisco a year ago, now actively promoting communism on 35 college campuses.

The Communist party is extremely interested in the civil rights movement, he said. The party has sent people to take part in demonstrations and in seeking to use the unrest to further their own movement.

He also said that "Russian agents will pay money for information. We find that money represents one of their most effective weapons."

Dr. Stukenbrocker said that every American should know more about what the Soviet intelligence means and how the Soviets operate. "In today's complex society, no person is actually immune from possible Soviet contact. A stenographer, a junior draftsman, a photographer may have information which Soviets may think will be of value to them. Hence, every citizen should be vigilant, and if he has any information pertaining to possible espionage or subversive activities he should report it immediately to the FBI."

He stressed that communism should be fought within the law.

"We have sufficient strength to defeat communism within our own law. Anyone who takes the law into his own hands is doing the country a great disservice."

Dr. Stukenbrocker entered the FBI as a special agent in 1942 doing investigative work in the field. He was assigned in 1944 to the headquarters staff.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

We wish to express our appreciation to you for making it possible for Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker to address approximately 500 executive, technical and administrative Western Electric Company personnel on December 14, 1965, at our annual Company Defense Security refresher meetings. These meetings were held at our Headquarters located at 222 Broadway, New York, New York.

Dr. Stukenbroeker's comprehensive and enlightening address covered the current Communist threat, and stressed the continuing need and responsibility of everyone in industry who is engaged on Government contracts to safeguard all related classified information. Recognizing our position in the communications field, Dr. Stukenbroeker also pointed up the need to continue protecting with utmost care Company proprietary information. During the scheduled question and answer periods, numerous probing questions indicated that his address proved very interesting and thought provoking.

May I assure you that it was truly a privilege to have Dr. Stukenbroeker address us on these important subjects.

Sincerely,

There is attached a copy of the February, 1966, issue of captioned publication. This is an excellent publication and has a wide circulation throughout the country.

The current issue contains, starting on page 4, an article entitled "Turbulence on the Campus" by the Director. This is an excellent article on a very difficult subject and we anticipate reprinting it to meet the many requests we get for information of this nature. This article was researched by Special Agent Fern C. Stukenbroeker of the Crime Research Section, who spent considerable time on it and gave it much thought. We anticipate a very favorable response from the general public on this article.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Administrative Division for consideration of commendation for Special Agent Stukenbroeker for the excellent work he did in researching this article.

Sertoma Guest Is FBI Agent

"America has a great story of freedom to tell if it will only take the time and make the effort to tell it," a top FBI agent told some 6,000 junior high school students Tuesday in the Salt Lake Tabernacle.

Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker, Chief of Security, Federal Bureau of Investigation, spoke to participants in the Salt Lake Sertoma Club annual Freedom Week program.

"America today is faced with a serious danger," Dr. Stukenbroeker told the group, "from communists within and from without."

SEEK TRUTH

He urged the youngsters to search for the truth, factually compare what life under communism means compared to life in a free country.

"Be willing to do your share at school, at home, in the community. With every right and privilege goes a duty and a responsibility," he said.

Dr. Stukenbroeker was also a featured speaker Tuesday evening at the Sertoma Club's Freedom Banquet at the University of Utah.

Seven persons were honored, and the club received $500 and the George Washington Honor Medal awarded by the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa. The national award was for the club's year-long freedom program. Chief Justice F. Henri Henriod of the Utah Supreme Court, himself the winner of the Freedom Foundation's Juror's Award, made the presentation.

Nola Black, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Goodfellow, 2185 King St. (2480 East), and W. Gordon Louis, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Louis, 3730-195h East, were named winners in the club's speech contest.

Lanette Robinson, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge D. Robinson, 661 Post St. (940 West), and George Washington Henry, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Henry, 335 E. 8th South, won the essay competition.

James Merlin Oswald, social studies specialist for Salt Lake City Public Schools, was awarded the Teacher Citizenship Award. Miss Ina Gertrude Johnson was presented with the Service to Mankind Award.

The Dr. Sertoma Youth Service Award went to Karen Smith, 17, 2168 Wyoming St. (2410 East), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Todd P. Smith.

Tuesday afternoon's program also featured speeches by two student orators, music by the Mendelssohn Chorus directed by Elvis B. Terry, and an address by Helge A. Zethren, President of Sertoma International.

Marion D. Hanks, Council of Twelve Apostles, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, gave the invocation.

Finalists in the speech program were: Nola Black, Hillside Jr. High; Revou Hewitt, Southeast Jr. High; Janet Nancy Moe, Bryant Jr. High; Debra Kay Wollen, Valley Jr. High; Jean Carlyle Oliver, West Lake Jr. High; Kathy Sewell, Olympus Jr. High; Anita Louise Bland, Southeast Jr. High;

As the Bureau files will reflect, SA FERN C. STUKENBROEKER was unable to arrive in Seattle until the afternoon of 2/15/66. Commencing on February 16, 1966, however, he made speeches at the following places:

February 16, 1966, at Bellingham, Washington, KVOS-TV at 8:00 A.M. in a public service, unsponsored program; 2 speeches before the Bellingham High School students; 1 speech before the Ferndale High School students at Ferndale, Washington; a speech before the students of the Western Washington State College at Bellingham. On the evening of February 16, 1966, he addressed the combined meeting of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars at Everett, Washington.

February 17, 1966, he appeared before the students of the Grays Harbor College, Aberdeen, Washington; recorded 12 radio speeches on Radio Station KGY in Olympia, Washington for later broadcast on a public service, unsponsored program.

February 18, 1966, at Bremerton, Washington, he appeared before the students of the East High School, the West High School and Olympic College; he recorded a radio broadcast over Radio Station KBRO for later broadcast on a public service, unsponsored program. On the same date he recorded a radio speech on KIXI in Seattle.

On February 19, 1966, he appeared before the Washington State and Northern Idaho Council of Churches in Seattle; recorded a radio speech on Radio Station KGDN for later broadcast on a public service, unsponsored program, and on the evening of February 19, 1966, he appeared before the Knife and Fork Club in Port Angeles, Washington. The latter meeting was presided over by former Assistant to the Director LELAND V. BOARDMAN, who was most complimentary in his remarks concerning SA STUKENBROEKER's appearance.

Recapitulating on the above, during SA STUKENBROEKER's stay here he recorded 1 television appearance, 15 radio speeches, 5 speeches before high school groups, 3 speeches before college groups, 1 speech before a church group and 2 speeches before civic groups.

In addition during his stay here, and in view of the prominence of former Soviet spy RUDOLPH ABEL in the news, SA STUKENBROEKER took occasion to refute and deny the allegations made by ABEL concerning the Bureau.

There is attached a clipping taken from the SEATTLE TIMES of 2/20/66 concerning this article.

SA STUKENBROEKER makes an excellent appearance. He has, of course, a tremendous grasp of the subject, is a very effective speaker, and the topics which he discusses are of great current interest. There have been countless individuals who have advised me of their appreciation for his appearance, the excellence of his delivery, and the wisdom of his thoughts.

I personally feel that the Bureau's permitting him to make these appearances is most worthwhile, and particularly effective at this time.

F. B. I. Man Scoffs At Russ Agent's 'Outwitting' Boast

A former Soviet master spy's statement that he had outwitted the Federal Bureau of Investigation is "typical sour grapes," Fern C. Stukenbroeker, F. B. I. agent from Washington, D. C., said here Friday.

"We identified Col. Rudolph Abel, we found his espionage equipment and we found sufficient evidence to convict him and have him sentenced to 30 years in prison," Stukenbroeker said.

The F. B. I. official, who specializes in internal security, said it was possible that Abel's statements, made in a Soviet newspaper last Sunday, were "a gimmick to embarrass the bureau."

HOWEVER, Stukenbroeker said he was unable to comment on the truthfulness of specific assertions of Abel because he (Stukenbroeker) had left Washington, D. C., before publication of the Abel statements in this country.

The former Soviet spy said he was able to dispose of a decoder and a message from Moscow under the eyes of F. B. I. agents and also got rid of an incriminating piece of film while being taken to F. B. I. headquarters after his arrest in Brooklyn in 1957.

(Abel later was exchanged for Francis Gary Powers, the American U-2 pilot whose plane was downed in Russia.)

Stukenbroeker, who is on West Coast speaking tour, exhibited devices of the type he said were used by Soviet agents to hide and transport microfilm and other information.

THEY INCLUDED a shaving brush with a hollow handle, a large nail with a hole drilled in it, a cuff link with hidden compartment and a hollow pencil.

SUBJECT: PUBLIC APPEARANCES IN SALT LAKE CITY
BY SA FERN C. STUKENBROEKER

DATE: 2/25/66

It seems only fitting that the Bureau be made cognizant of the excellent reception of Special Agent STUKENBROEKER in Salt Lake City in connection with his recent speech activities in that city.

As the Bureau has already been made aware, Mr. STUKENBROEKER's host was [redacted] who is [redacted] of the Freedom Foundation of the Salt Lake City Sertoma Club, which annually sponsors a major speech and essay competition for school children in the Salt Lake City area. [redacted] is one of the most energetic and tenacious individuals whom I have ever encountered. Mr. STUKENBROEKER now shares my evaluation in this regard, since from the minute he, STUKENBROEKER, deplaned until he left, beginning 7:00 A.M. and ending at 12:00 Midnight, [redacted] completely monopolized Mr. STUKENBROEKER's time.

Mr. STUKENBROEKER gave a major address to a packed house at the Salt Lake Tabernacle the afternoon of February 22, and later in the evening addressed the Freedom Foundation Banquet. Although prior commitments precluded my attending either of the aforementioned speeches, I have had numerous telephone calls or have been otherwise approached by prominent professional and businessmen who were in attendance and without exception they were most laudatory of Mr. STUKENBROEKER's remarks. [redacted] who is most outspoken, stated he was very much pleased with the publicity of the affair and the excellent speech prepared and delivered by Mr. STUKENBROEKER. I know [redacted] well enough so that if he had not been pleased, he would have so stated.

people in the city through [redacted] including the heads of the television and radio stations and newspapers. Mr. STUKENBROEKER cut tapes for subsequent transmission over KSL Radio and KALL Radio. In addition, he made two television programs over KUTV (NBC); one TV program over KSL-TV (CBS), and one TV program over KCPX-TV (ABC). These programs varied from three to seven minutes and dealt with one or both of the topics concerning Mr. STUKENBROEKER's speech before the Freedom Foundation and certain physical evidence utilized in the ABEL spy case trial.

Since the aforementioned TV and radio appearances were made in the Salt Lake City Division, according to present ground rules, credit for two radio and four television appearances for Salt Lake City requested.

It will be recalled that late last week the above-mentioned Special Agent of this Section returned from a very comprehensive speaking engagement tour in the far west.

The first speech was before a group of Copley Newspaper editors near San Diego. James S. Copley, who is Chairman of the Copley Newspapers, wrote the Director under date of February 25th and stated that Stukenbroeker "did an outstanding job and added considerably to the conference."

Stukenbroeker then went to the Seattle Division where he spent several days addressing high school, college, religious and civic groups as well as participating in radio and television appearances. In a letter dated February 24th, SAC, Seattle, said that during the few days Stukenbroeker was in the state he appeared on one television program, fifteen radio programs, one church group and two civic groups, five high school groups and three college groups. The SAC stated that Stukenbroeker makes an excellent appearance, has a tremendous grasp of his subject, is a very effective speaker and has an excellent delivery. It was pointed out that many individuals had expressed appreciation to the Seattle Office for the appearance of SA Stukenbroeker.

On his way back to Washington, Stukenbroeker addressed a packed house at the Salt Lake Tabernacle in Salt Lake City, on the afternoon of February 22nd, and on the evening of the same day addressed the Freedom Foundation Banquet in the same city. In addition to these major appearances, he made four television addresses, three to seven minutes in length, and appeared twice on radio. The SAC, Salt Lake City, reported that many prominent professional and business men had called or contacted him concerning the outstanding performance of SA Stukenbroeker.

Dear Boss:

Saturday night, the members of the Knife & Fork Club heard Sp. Agt. Fern Stukenbroeker speak on Communism. He made an excellent speech and was very well received. I am the President of the organization this year and we spend an average of $500 per speaker. I comment on this because Stukenbroeker was every bit as good as the best of the professional speakers and better than the majority of them.

I don't know how many men presently talk on this subject, but I do know that it is very important that we have every organization in America hear a talk comparable to the one Stukenbroeker gave.

SAC Milnes arranged for his appearance, at my request and he & Mrs. Milnes sat at the head table with us. The business people in this area that have met Milnes have been very favorably impressed. He spoke before our Rotary Club several months ago and did a very fine job.

Thanks very much for permitting Stukenbroeker to come. His appearance enriched the lives of our membership and I trust will make them more alert to our national situation.

Kindest regards,

Lee Boardman

PERFORMANCE RATING GUIDE FOR INVESTIGATIVE PERSONNEL

(For use as attachment to Performance Rating Form No. FD-185)

Name of Employee FERN C. STUKENBROEKER Title Special Agent
 Rating Period: from 4-1-65 to 3-31-66

RATING GUIDE AND CHECK-LIST

Note: Only those items having pertinent bearing on employee's performance should be rated. All employees in same salary grade should be compared.

RATE ITEMS AS FOLLOWS:

- Outstanding (exceeding excellent and deserving of special commendation).
- Excellent.
- Satisfactory (good or very good).
- Unsatisfactory.
- No opportunity to appraise performance during rating period.

Guide for determining adjective rating:

1. "Outstanding" adjective rating requires (A) that all elements be + and (B) that each and every rated element be factually justified by narrative details, including reasons for considering each worthy of Special Commendation and be attached to FD-185a.
2. "Excellent," "Satisfactory" or "Unsatisfactory" adjective ratings will depend upon the composite result of evaluating all rated elements rather than following any mechanical formulas; however, for an employee to be rated "Excellent" he must not be rated unsatisfactory on any performance evaluation factors on the rating guide and check-list and must be rated "Excellent" or "Outstanding" on the majority of such rating factors. Good judgment must be exercised to insure that adjective rating is reasonable in the light of elements rated.
- A. Any element rated "Unsatisfactory" must be supported by narrative comments.
- B. An official rating of "Unsatisfactory" must be supported in writing stating (1) wherein the performance is unsatisfactory, (2) the facts of the (90-day) prior warning, and (3) the efforts made after the warning to help the employee bring his performance up to a satisfactory level and must be attached to FD-185a.

4. TYPE OF CASES OR WORK HANDLED AND APPRAISAL OF OVER-ALL PERFORMANCE, INCLUDING ABILITY TO HANDLE COMPLICATED INVESTIGATIVE MATTERS AND SUPERVISION REQUIRED:

During the past year this Special Agent has continued his exceptional job in research matters in the Crime Research Section. He is an authority on the subject of communism and for this reason has coordinated most of the research work in the Section in this particular field. A typical example of his outstanding work in this regard is the research work he did on the Director's recent article entitled "Turbulence on the Campus" which appeared in the February, 1966, issue of "The PTA Magazine."

Stukenbroeker is one of the Bureau's most outstanding public speakers and during the past year was exceptionally busy handling engagements on the subject of communism in practically all sections of the country. His personnel file is replete with letters of a most commendatory nature concerning his work in this respect. For example, [redacted] from the Grand Lodge of Nebraska, wrote on June 10th with regard to a recent speech of Stukenbroeker's before a Masonic group in that state. He stated in part, "Doctor Stukenbroeker gave us a timely, informative, and powerful talk."

Dear Dr. Stukenbroeker:

I suppose your ears are burning. I have heard so many nice things since your visit to us - from students, faculty and guests. You informed and inspired us! I just wish you could talk in all the high schools and colleges in the nation - particularly in high schools. It seems to me that so many young people are brainwashed, and, as a syndicated columnist wrote Monday morning, the people have been softened toward Communism to the extent that many are tolerating it without objection.

I think that the one thing that needs to be said over and over and over again is suggested by the title of Mr. Hoover's book: Communists are "Masters of Deceit" and, therefore, we cannot believe what they say about themselves and their Utopias. Our young people are more credulous than they should be, and are too prone to think that all is well and "everything is going to turn out all right, so why worry?" Our tolerance has come to mean tolerance of evil and brotherhood means fraternizing with the devil himself! But - I didn't mean to try to tell you anything.

We can never thank you enough for your patience, your information given with professorial eloquence and professional authority. You truly had a strenuous day! On the part of Samford University, and for myself personally, I want to thank you.

Communists Grow Bold

A CENTURY ago communism was a fuzzy idea in the mind of a self-styled "intellectual."

Today the political movement that offers nothing but slavery to government is an admitted world force.

One-third of the world's people are behind the iron curtains of the atheistic, oppressive doctrine and one-fourth of the world's land area is controlled by some form of Marxism.

"Whether we like it or not, communism is going to be the backdrop to our lives and the lives of future Americans for years to come," says Fern Stukenbroeker, administrative assistant to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

And, as he reminds us, communism is no longer an alien philosophy in a faraway land. It is a boldly new and aggressive force in the United States and must be the focus of concern among all good Americans.

Last year the party added an estimated 2,000 hard-core members in the U.S., bringing total membership to about 12,000. Its secretary, Gus Hall, admits an "upsurge" in the party's fortunes and says it has 100,000 "state-of-mind" members.

Its boldness is evident in announced plans for a convention, attempts to put party members on ballots, the "new program" announced this week, open activity on campuses and the general movement into the open with concurrent claims to legitimacy.

The emphasis is on youth, but no American, whether a stenographer or a junior draftsman, is overlooked by the Communist Party, Mr. Stukenbroeker said in a Borrego, Calif., address.

The fact the party is moving out into the open more, however, does not diminish the hidden danger. Mr. Stukenbroeker said the party's methods are also becoming more subtle, refined and complex. The overt and covert work is in tandem and inspired by both the Soviet Union and Peking.

"Although ideological enemies, Moscow and Peking will work together on an objective for practical purposes," the FBI official said.

Good Americans who support their country and its institutions have a clear duty to avoid complacency and be alert to the danger.

More than that, as Mr. Stukenbroeker said: "We need above all to be for the basic principles of the American way of life. We have a great story of freedom to tell. Take the time and take the effort to do it."

"Each American has a personal share in the protection of this country."

Enclosed herewith are clippings on Dr. Stukenbroeker's recent appearances out here.

He came into Youngstown on the night of April 18th and was interviewed by DON CARANO, a reporter for WFMJ, which was shown on tv that night and during the day on April 19th.

The next morning at 7:30, he spoke before the Chamber of Commerce, and there were about 150 people present at an Early Bird Breakfast. At 10:00 A.M. on the 19th, he spoke before about 800 students at the Canfield High School and at 1:00 P.M. that afternoon before 950 students and faculty members of the Fitch High School in Austintown. On the evening of the 19th, he spoke at the Youngstown Area Crime Clinic, Mahoning Country Club, before about 200 people.

On the following day, April 20th, he spoke before an executive luncheon at the company dining room of Republic Steel, before 50 top executives.

Although I was unable to be present for any of these talks, I am told that Dr. Stukenbroeker was extremely well received on each occasion, and at the conclusion of each speech was given a standing ovation.

The work of Dr. Stukenbroeker while in Youngstown was certainly commendable, and I want to offer my thanks to the Director for making it possible for Dr. Stukenbroeker to appear here, as he has certainly enhanced the image of the FBI in the Youngstown area.

Says Teachers Are Important In Red Fight

The destiny of the United States rests in the hands of educators because what happens in the classroom will to a large extent decide the battle with Communists for the hearts, minds and souls of our youth, Dr. Fern C. Stukenbroeker of Washington, D.C., said here Tuesday night.

Dr. Stukenbroeker, a special agent of the FBI and a leading authority on Communism, spoke to 150 persons at the Youngstown Area Crime Clinic dinner at Mahoning Country Club. Wives of members were guests.

Dr. Stukenbroeker said America has a fine generation of sophisticated young people in high schools and colleges who will help this country meet the challenge.

He stressed the importance of faith in law enforcement institutions because police on every level play a vital role against the Communist battle for power.

Dr. Stukenbroeker said Communists are spending money trying to reach the young. He cited the college speaking program as a desperate attempt to change the Communist image to try to be a respectable, legitimate political party within our tradition.

He said the Communist party wants to disarm Americans ideologically, wants us to accept them, invite them into organizations, repeal anti-Communist laws.

Another weapon of the Communists in the youth field are the W. E. DuBois Clubs which have recruiters on college campuses.

"We must fight Communism within the pattern of law and order. Don't confuse legitimate dissent with Communism. And don't as a private citizen conduct an investigation on your own," he declared.

Girard Police Chief Leo Moran presented a Crime Clinic citation to Dr. Stukenbroeker. Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of Youngstown University, was a guest. C. Van Cise, chief of plant protection for Republic Steel Corp., was program chairman.

SPECIAL AGENT FERN C. STUKENBROEKER

The Bureau has received a copy of Volume 18, No. 2 of the above-mentioned Law Review which features the Director's article entitled "Contempt for the Law--The Dagger of National Suicide." This is a hard-hitting article which unmistakably presents the Director's viewpoint on current disrespect for the law and related matters. It should have very wide circulation and be of untold benefit not only to the FBI but to law enforcement in general.

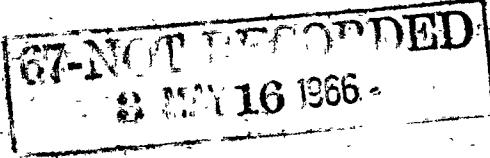

The detailed work on this article was handled in the Section by SA Stukenbrocker. I feel sure you will agree he did a very fine job indeed on this particular assignment and that his efforts are worthy of commendation.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this matter be referred to the Administrative Division so that an appropriate note can be sent to SA Stukenbrocker, commending him.

Dear [Redacted]

I have received your letter of May 10th and it was thoughtful of you to write and furnish your comments.

I know Dr. Stukenbroeker enjoyed his speaking engagements before your groups in the Youngstown, Ohio, area and he appreciates, as I do, your generous comments concerning his efforts.

It was a pleasure to forward my autographed photograph to you and I want to thank you for your expressions of confidence in me and your good wishes. I hope our future endeavors will merit your continued support and approval.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Sir:

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to you for having made Dr. Stukenbroeker available for his appearances in the Youngstown, Ohio area in April. My associates in the American Legion and the Youngstown Area Crime Clinic in this joint program join me in this expression.

Dr. Stukenbroeker did a tremendous job with both teenagers and adults as was evidenced by the ovations from the various audiences. In fact, hardly a day goes by that at least one person who heard him mentions to me how they appreciated the opportunity to hear a speaker of Dr. Stukenbroeker's caliber. Once again, many, many thanks to both you and Dr. Stukenbroeker.

There is another item for which I want to thank you and to tell you how much it is appreciated. Special Agent [redacted] presented me with your autographed portrait yesterday which I had planned to display in my office, but since I was so proud of it I took it home to show to my wife and two children and as a result it is now on our living room wall - by a vote of three to one. You can see that they are also admirers of yours. "

Finally, I wish to thank you, as all freedom loving Americans should, for having dedicated your life to the protection of the ideals which we cherish. Your devotion to duty and your adherence to your ideals have made you a legend in your own lifetime. Please accept this letter of appreciation as it is intended, sincerely and gratefully.

Respectfully yours,

CONTEMPT FOR THE LAW — THE DAGGER OF NATIONAL SUICIDE

JOHN EDGAR HOOVER*

Theodore Roosevelt, America's twenty-sixth President, in his Inaugural address of March 4, 1905, talked about the America he so deeply loved: "Never before," he said, "have men tried so vast and formidable an experiment as that of administering the affairs of a continent under the forms of a Democratic republic." Then, with keen insight, he added:

Upon the success of our experiment much depends, not only as regards our own welfare, but as regards the welfare of mankind. If we fail, the cause of free self-government throughout the world will rock to its foundations, and therefore our responsibility is heavy, to ourselves, to the world as it is today, and to the generations yet unborn. There is no good reason why we should fear the future, but there is every reason why we should face it seriously, neither hiding from ourselves the gravity of the problems before us nor fearing to approach these problems with the unbending, unflinching purpose to solve them aright.

In President Roosevelt's words, the time has come that we in 1966 should not hide from ourselves the gravity of a serious problem in our nation today, nor fear to approach it with an unbending, unflinching purpose of solving it.

Frankly speaking, this problem is a growing contempt and disregard for law and order in the United States—a feeling on the part of an increasing number of individuals and groups that citizens need only obey the laws with which they agree. If, for some reason, they believe a law is wrong or unjust, they simply ignore or wilfully disobey it. Such attitudes and actions, if continued and accepted by more citizens, especially our young people, can spell grave disaster to our free society. The ultimate result of a widely accepted and condoned spirit of lawlessness can only be anarchy, nihilism and a growing national temper of discord, mistrust and hostility.

Prominent legal authorities have recognized the malaise of this Trojan horse in our midst. The Honorable Lewis F. Powell, Jr., President of the American Bar Association, for example,

* Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States. Department of Justice.

speaking before the State Bar of Texas, states: "In travelling about the country, talking with lawyers and judges, I find a deepening concern over the deteriorating state of law and order in our country. . . ."¹

Lawyers, Powell added, are concerned not only with a deepening crime problem but also "about a different aspect of deteriorating law and order. This relates—not to crime as such—but to the growing lack of respect for law and for due process, and the unwillingness of many to resolve differences by established legal means."

This trend of contempt for the law directly and forcefully affects law enforcement—local, state and national—and in recent months has presented serious problems, in the form of riots, demonstrations, mob activity and direct physical attacks against police personnel. In fact, law enforcement is today experiencing one of its most grave testing periods because of this concept of "I am above the law—you can't touch me."

Let's look at some of law enforcement's problems. First, let's allow Colonel Joseph L. Regan, Director, New Hampshire Division of State Police, to speak: "Fear and bewilderment gripped the minds of many families and individuals who had come to Hampton Beach, New Hampshire, on Labor Day weekend, 1964."²

But a riot, not an enjoyable weekend, was in store for Hampton Beach. The arrival of large numbers of young people, in a boisterous mood, was the first symptom of trouble. "They made their presence felt further by an outward display of arrogance and profane and insulting chants directed at the police. Among these was 'Let's have a riot.' Often these chants were accompanied by bongo drums and guitars. On Sunday evening disrespect for the law reached its climax. Colonel Regan tells the story:

An uncontrolled mass of young people, bent on the destruction of property and defiance of the law, vaulted the railing along the beach front, came out of side streets and restaurants, and met en masse on the sands of the beach with its back to the ocean. Following this, there was a spontaneous move at 7:45, when the entire group of between 5,000 and 7,000 split into three groups and came back over the railing.

1. July, 1965, Fort Worth, Texas.

2. FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, April, 1965.

The first group ran down 'D' Street, spilling into the parking lot at the rear of the Casino. From there they stormed the local police and fire station.

The frenzied rioters chanted "Kill the cops." "Troopers were faced with bricks, bottles, beer cans filled with sand, rocks, and pieces of plate glass hurled at them from shoulder height." Then the rioters started to throw Molotov cocktails which resulted in several small fires. "Firemen trying to extinguish the blazes were under constant attack by the mob," and one fireman was stabbed in the leg.

Finally, local officers, assisted by reinforcements, restored order. But at what cost! Here are the casualties to the law officers, whose duty it was to enforce the law:

With the sun just starting its climb in the east, the New Hampshire troopers checked their casualties. It was learned that one man had a broken foot, one a knee injury, and another had been hit in the face with a rock, which later resulted in the loss of five teeth and the taking of thirty-one stitches to close his wounds. Of the eighty-six New Hampshire troopers committed to action, seventy-two carried visible marks of the riot.

James S. Kline, Coordinator of Police Training, Governmental Research Center, the University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kansas, tells of another riot³—similar to a number of others in recent years:

It has been said that out of all things there comes some good. It is doubtful that anyone in Garnett, Kansas, would have agreed with this statement on the morning of July 7, 1963. This was the morning following a horrible nightmare. Citizens were asking themselves: "How could this terrible thing have happened?" "What has happened to our town?"

Mr. Kline continues:

The finale for the 1963 Lake Garnett sports car races had been an ugly riot in the city square. Thousands of youths who had descended upon the city became involved in this uproar. Some had come to enjoy the races; others had come to spoil them. The net result was that the National Guard had to be called. There was extensive property damage.

3. FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, October, 1964.

Thirty-one persons were arrested; nearly a hundred persons were treated for injuries; and a police officer was dead of a heart attack.

What was the aftermath?

"The question was asked: 'What good could come of this tragedy?' Possibly, the answer is that it brought about an awakening among Kansas law enforcement officials. The riots and civil disturbances which had been occurring elsewhere in the United States had been nothing more than newspaper copy in Kansas. Most Kansas citizens were fairly secure in the belief that: 'It could not happen here.'

"After the riot in Garnett, things began to happen." Local authorities, Kline explains, sought out reasons why the riot had happened, and what steps could be taken in the future to handle such attacks on law and order.

These episodes can be multiplied many fold—of riots, for example, at the University of California at Berkeley; in Los Angeles; Rochester, New York; Seaside, Oregon; Jersey City, New Jersey; Dixmoor, Illinois (a suburban community outside Chicago); and Philadelphia. In addition, law enforcement has frequently been faced with near-riot situations, where ugly moods, epithets from citizens and bitter hostility have caused great tension and strains.

Today's rising contempt for the law is of deep concern to law enforcement. We must, however, see it in its many-faceted dimensions if we are to appreciate the full magnitude of its danger and the problems it poses for law enforcement.

First of all, crime is still with us—the types of crime we have always faced—but in an ever-increasing crescendo. In fact, crime is increasing six times faster than population. Virtually all categories of offenses are showing increases—both adult and juvenile. In addition to the so-called "aboveground" crimes, such as bank robbery, kidnaping and auto theft, is the whole area of "underworld" crime, involving hoodlums, whose way of life is gambling, gang wars, paid assassination, loan sharking, illicit traffic in narcotics, labor racketeering and contrived bankruptcies. In both "aboveground" and "underworld" crime we meet a cynical disregard of the law, an utter contempt for the rights of others and a complete negation of spiritual values.

In addition, law enforcement is facing still another type of contempt of the law—a contempt which, relatively speaking, is something new in this country but, like a corrosive acid, has already eaten deep fissures into our body politic. Often unseen and always difficult to handle, it has greatly compounded law enforcement's problems. As one of the most subtle diseases ever to attack this country, students of the law should know more about it. I have reference to a contempt which arises from an ideological base.

Attacks from the ideological enemies of free government, such as communism (and earlier Nazism and Fascism), have left their mark. The communists have spewed hatred and scorn against law enforcement ever since the Party's formation in this country in 1919. The FBI, for example, has been accused of virtually every conceivable thing—"violating civil liberties," "thought control," "brutality" and "blackmailing." For the communists, the consistent slander and defamation of law enforcement (and all legal processes of free government) have a diabolical and long-range purpose: to undermine public confidence in the officer of the law and thereby weaken democratic institutions.

Most unfortunately, a generation of communist attack (not only by the Party but also by a myriad of communist fronts, sympathizers and fellow travellers) has borne productive fruit for the Party. A significant percentage of the current turbulence on campuses, symbolized by the so-called New Left, with its frenzied attacks against American policy in Vietnam, stems from Marxist teachings and philosophy. This is a penalty the nation—and law enforcement—is paying for a generation of poison pellets unleashed by a highly organized, well planned international conspiracy operating inside the United States. We have seen a bitter deracination of American values, a scoffing at democratic traditions, a deriding of patriotism. We see, for example, such extremist acts as attempting to block railroad tracks, lying down at busy intersections and crudely sprawling in the offices of government officials. The destruction of draft cards and offering to counsel on how to avoid military service are serious acts. Often these excesses rest on moods of unrestrained individualism and an arrogant and false belief that laws are specifically designed to "impede" the solution of social and economic problems. Flagrant beatnik-style nonconformism in dress and speech, including the use of obscene language, is a feature of this type of contempt of the law.

Of serious concern to law enforcement is the strong effort by some to morally justify civil disobedience. Proponents of this theory assert that civil disobedience is justifiable if the acts are open, not violent and respectful of the rights of others and have for a purpose the focusing of attention on significant moral issues of the day. This is a dangerous doctrine. Such a position, in essence, asserts that the answers to the problems confronting society should be found, not in legitimate legal procedures, but on the streets, behind the barricades and even in riots! If every group or individual who thought he had a morally justifiable cause were to (pursuant to this doctrine) commit civil disobedience, what would happen to our system of government?

In America, we have the right of dissent—that is the very heart of our way of life. A citizen must have the right, if he chooses to speak his mind, to criticize, and to express what he believes. But this does not mean the license to arbitrarily violate the law for a purpose which he and his associates certify as "right". Specific actions which may start out as peaceful and respectful of the rights of others can very easily—and events have so proved—turn into episodes of violence where great injury has occurred, sometimes to innocent people. If laws seem unjust, the citizen should not endeavor to take the law into his own hands, or encourage violation of the law to redress what he feels is wrong, but should take steps to have the laws changed through established constitutional procedures.

In a democracy patience is a primary discipline for the citizen—along with mutual trust and tolerance for his fellow citizen. Far too often the orderly processes of government are disrupted by excessive emotion, impatience and dreams of individual martyrdom in an alleged noble cause.

In 1787, Benjamin Franklin spoke in favor of ratifying the proposed Constitution for the thirteen states:

I doubt, too, whether any other convention we can obtain may be able to make a better constitution. For when you assemble a number of men to have the advantage of their joint wisdom, you inevitably assemble with those men all their prejudices, their passions, their errors of opinion, their local interests and their selfish views. From such an assembly can a perfect production be expected?

A vital key of democratic government is a striving for the common good through the orderly process of law. If each person (or group) acts independently of the law, using Mr. Franklin's words, for his own "prejudices," "passions" and "local interests," only chaos can result. What is today mandatory are a steadfast reliance on the integrity of our legal system and a recognition by our citizens of the majesty of the law. Far too many Americans have forgotten that we are a nation of laws, not of men. They put their faith, hope and dreams in the actions of a leader or a group rather than due process of law. What is the essence of the American "experiment," as President Roosevelt described this nation? It is the law—a thread of light emerging from the dark years of history embodying the experiences of men and women seeking to find how they can best live in justice and harmony one with another.

Harry Gold, the atomic spy of World War II, is an example of what can happen if the citizen attempts to take the law into his own hands to achieve what he believes is moral and good: "Somewhere in me through the years, I got a basic disrespect . . . I felt I could ignore authority. I was cocksure. . . ." Gold said he felt a "genuine sympathy" for the Russian people. Here was the moral justification he gave himself to violate the law, to steal confidential information and turn it over to representatives of a foreign power, the Soviet Union.

Unfortunately, the mood of civil disobedience—of contempt for the law—makes its adherents particularly vulnerable to exploitation by highly trained, purposive and well organized subversive groups. This has occurred, for example, in the recent turbulence on college campuses and elsewhere protesting American policy in Vietnam. Both the pro-Moscow communists, through the Communist Party, U.S.A., and the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs (youth group spawned by the Party), and the pro-Red Chinese groups, such as the Progressive Labor Party and the May 2 Movement, have been intently active in these demonstrations. They seek in every possible way to influence, exploit and dominate the social unrest of the New Left.

These subversive elements, acting through disciplined procedures, have cynically exploited the idealism and personal dedication of many of the movement's participants. In typical communist style, they have "moved in," taking advantage of the moods of discontent and unrest, youthful resentment against what is called the "Establishment" and "authority," and scorn for law and order. This is the grim harvest we are reaping today from the savage negation of American values in some circles which has been under way for a number of years.

Law enforcement is today keenly conscious of its many-faceted and rapidly growing responsibilities. This is an age of change, challenge and conflict—and law enforcement knows it. "Police administrators," wrote one top police executive, "must be aware that law enforcement agencies are presently in the most critical, crucial, and abstruse era of modern American history. The entire social structure is changing from day to day. In most of our communities, where social and economic changes have taken place, you will find a restless, moving, ever-growing population which results in new tensions, new conflicts, and new demands for police service."⁴

There are still many problems—poor salaries, lack of personnel, insufficient public support and understanding. Many state criminal codes enacted, for example, under vastly different economic, political and social conditions, deny law enforcement the proper tools to adequately do its job. In recent years in the criminal law there has been a trend of restricting the powers of the police.

Yet, law enforcement can—and is—overcoming these problems. It is each day rendering a more effective protection of the rights, lives and property of the citizenry.⁵ Law enforcement is an honored profession, attracting men and women of the highest quality. Greater training is being given,⁶ utilizing the latest techniques of science. Police administration has improved.

In our mid-twentieth century society, with its changes and tensions, law enforcement is on its way to meeting the new challenges. But its ultimate success depends on one aspect of our national life which, despite the advent of the space age, the miracles of science, the triumph of the jet, never must change—

4. Colonel E. Wilson Purdy, Commissioner, Pennsylvania State Police, FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, June, 1965.

5. "[The] cases suggest that in recent years law enforcement officials have become increasingly aware of the burden which they share, along with our courts, in protecting fundamental rights of our citizenry, including that portion of our citizenry suspected of crime." Spano v. New York, 360 U.S. 315 (1959) (Warren, C. J.).

6. South Carolina is instituting a police training program utilizing closed-circuit facilities of the South Carolina Educational Television Network. It is being promoted by Chief J. Preston Strom, South Carolina Law Enforcement Division, who is a graduate of the FBI National Academy, and has the backing of the principal law enforcement groups and associations in the State. Such a program makes it possible for instruction in basic police subjects to be telecast to some 210 public schools in South Carolina having the television facilities for the benefit of small and large departments, personnel of which may go to the school nearest them having a TV receiver. This is a most worthy training endeavor and indicative of the progress law enforcement is making. The FBI plans to participate in this program.

and that is respect for the law. This is the rock of permanency which must remain as the keystone if our government is to survive as a free nation.

As students of the law, attorneys, judges, citizens and readers of the South Carolina Law Review, we must be personally concerned with this cornerstone. In all my years as Director of the FBI I have never seen such variety, intensity and violence of attacks against this cornerstone. Not only the criminal and the communist, but hatemongers and bigots, such as the Ku Klux Klan, preach a doctrine of intolerance, hatred and scorn. Pseudo-liberals of the extreme left as well as the misguided zealots of the ultra right dance in frenzy around this cornerstone, seeking to push it one way or another. All kinds of "explanations" and "apologies" are being set forth to justify such actions.

At the same time, the failure of far too many "good" people to perform their duties as citizens abets this contempt. Time after time law enforcement meets what might be called the disease of "noninvolvement"—of citizens simply not wanting to become involved! It's the philosophy of "let George do it!" Some refuse to report vital information in their possession about illegal behavior; others will not testify or seek to avoid service on a jury. Not long ago national publicity was given to a case in New York City where some thirty-seven individuals admitted they had witnessed repeated assaults on a murder victim—and not even in the safety of their own apartments would they call the police! In another instance, a young newspaperman in a Western city, posing as a "drunk", sprawled across a downtown sidewalk during the rush hour with his feet dangling in the street. What would happen? The answer came quickly:

No one went out of his way except to avoid me; no one stopped except to stare at me. I guess the Good Samaritan concept is dead.

Theodore Roosevelt, in his 1905 Inaugural address, also spoke these words:

Much has been given us, and much will rightfully be expected from us. We have duties to others and duties to ourselves; and we can shirk neither.

Only in this way—faithfulness to our democratic heritage, a rededication to the majesty of the law—can this "experiment" of free government survive.

Dear [REDACTED]

I have received your letter of May 25th requesting that I designate Dr. Fern Stukenbroeker to speak before the General Dynamics--Fort Worth Management Club in Fort Worth, Texas, on January 19, 1967.

It is indeed a pleasure to inform you that Dr. Stukenbroeker is available to handle this commitment, and he is looking forward to addressing this gathering. If additional arrangements are necessary, please feel free to communicate with him directly here at FBI Headquarters.

You were most kind to express complimentary remarks regarding his appearance at the Toledo Management Association on May 17th. Dr. Stukenbroeker was glad to be with you on this occasion, and he joins me in thanking you for your generous comments.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
United States Department of Justice
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. Hoover:

On Tuesday, May 17, I attended a meeting of the Toledo Management Association where Dr. Fern Stukenbroeker was the feature speaker. He is a credit to your Department and did an excellent job portraying to the audience the dangers of Russian espionage and the role which industrial managers can play in cooperating with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Thank you for making this possible.

Throughout the year I look for meetings in our Association where the Federal Bureau of Investigation, through Dr. Stukenbroeker, can enlighten a sizable number of members. On these occasions I contact you to determine whether he may be made available.

On Thursday, January 19, 1967, the General Dynamics/Fort Worth Management Club will hold its monthly meeting. This is one of the largest groups we have in our Association, totalling almost 5,000 members who play a vital role in the aerospace industry. On behalf of the National Management Association, its affiliates, and the General Dynamics/Fort Worth Management Club, I extend a cordial invitation to Dr. Fern Stukenbroeker to serve as feature speaker.

The Honorable J. Edgar Hoover
Director

Dear Mr. Hoover:

We are in continuous obligation to the FBI and to Dr. Fern Stukenbrocker for the very fine presentations which he makes to teachers here at Freedoms Foundation during workshops or seminars on Americanism vs. Communism.

I know that you and he have already consented to his appearance in seminars to be conducted here during June and July by Dr. Richard Allen of the Center for Strategic Studies; but we have another favor to ask, and that is that he be assigned if possible to the August 1-19 seminar which is to be conducted here at Freedoms Foundation by Samford University. We should particularly like to have him on Wednesday, August 10th to discuss "Communism in the United States Today". He would be following in a series which would be started by Dr. Allen on "The Communist Threat -- an Overview"; Dr. Gerhart Neimeyer on "Communist Ideology"; and Dr. William Kintner on "Protracted Conflict -- Where Do We Stand Today".

This appearance would call for his lecture presentation to begin at 8:30 on the morning of the 10th. We hope you may find it possible to make him available at that time. Please let us know.

With continued high esteem for the terrific job being done by the FBI under your direction and with best personal regards, I am

Cordially yours,

Tell Sawyer

W. C. "TOM" SAWYER

P.S. I am sure you will be pleased to know that the J. Edgar Hoover fund, under the direction of Lou Nichols is providing a full time specially qualified librarian for the J. Edgar Hoover Library this summer during the time that the three seminars and one teachers workshop are scheduled here.
